OUR BORO DADS IN SESSION.

Much Important Business Was Transacted.

HARD WORK TO COUNT A QUORUM

Many Bills Ordered Paid—Annual Appropriations Were Granted to the Firemen—Boys Must be Good on Halloween

SOME COUNCILMEN WERE BOYS ONCE

After much searching the sergeant-at arms, Mr. Shaughensey, succeeded in rounding up sufficient councilmen last evening so that President Hillibish was able to count a quorum and business could be transacted. The following were present: Hillibish, Garberich, Shortlidge, Garrity, Brachbill and Keller.

The minutes of the preceeding meeting were read by clerk Isaac Mitchell; there being no corrections they stood approved.

Citizens of Bishop street handed in a petition which was presented by Gotlieb Haag and D. C. Keller requesting an arc light at the intersection of Bishop and Penn street.

Wm. P. Flack of the Undine fire company requested that the council grant them their usual annual appropriation.

The Logan fire company through Mr. Brachbill also requested their appropriation

Mr. Gerberich called the attention of council to the fact that citizens had requested something be done to stop the boys hollow eveing.

Chairman Brachbill of street committee reported grading of Linn street from Harry Kellers house to boro line. Also finished grading Wilson street.

Total cost of this grading $77.95. Examined crossing from Rankin house to Harper property on Thomas street and found it in as good condition as any other stone crossing in town. Have put arc light at upper end of Bishop street, as ordered at last meeting.

The following communication was received from the majority of the street committee in favor of building better crossings.

The question was brought before the Council at the last meeting relative to the least cost of street crossings. The majority of the Committee. judging from the crossings already made, as well as the sidewalks in our town, have come to the conclusion, that it is no longer a question of how cheap or how dear a crossing can be built. The time is at hand, when this Council should understand how to build a street crossing that will stand wear and tear and not commence sinking and getting out of shape as soon as they have come into use, which has been the case heretofore. If the Council of this borough had begun many years ago, to give specifications to the property owners, how pavements should be laid to keep in shape and stand wear and tear, we would not now have some of the roughest pavements as well as poorest street crossings that can be found in any county town of our state. The majority of the Street Committee see very plainly the importance of commencing renewed efforts to construct street crossings and pavements that will maintain their position until the brick are about worn out. D. G. Bush and Isaac Thomas set the example to lay good pavements and furnished good material; but the mechanics traveled in the old rut and laid the paving material on foundations, which have been disentergated by frosts which disturbed the paving stones so that they are about as much out of shape now as other pavements, in our town. Until we build foundations sufficiently frost proof, which a majority of the Street Committee are trying to arrive at, poor pavements and poor street crossings will be made in the future as they have been in the past. The time has come for us to build street crossings, as well as side walks on modern plans and specifications at the least possible cost. When that shall have been accomplished the stieet crossings to be built, as well as the side walks, will be so constructed, that they will stand public use and not get out of shape in the very short time, which they have been doing. With this object in view, the majority of the Street Committee are having two crossings constructed with a view, when completed to have crossings that will stand public use and the Council will then learn what the actual cost is to construct the same. It is equally as important that the Council should learn by actual experience what it costs to build good crossings, as it does to give mechanics their own way and learn what it costs to build poor crossings as it has been in the past. The object in making this change is to serve the tax payers, as well as the traveling public to the very best advantage for the money expended.

Village Improvement committee reported that a tree had been removed in front of the Hale property on Allegheny street.

Chairman Gerberich of water committee reported laying water pipe to Burnside property on Logan street. Repaired several leaks in different parts of town. Contracted with Frank C. Williams for a water heater at a cost of $200.00 to be set up this week. Repairs of water works have been completed. Everything running in good order.

The fire police committee reported that several of the firemen had requested that a ploughed and grooved floor should be laid instead of a plain plank floor in the engine room of the new building. Mr. Bradley's bid is for a plain plank floor but for $8.00 additional he will lay the kind desired by the fireman. This would make the total cost $142.00.

The market committee reported receiving $5.40 market fees from market clerk Thomas Shaughensey.

The request for a light on Bishop street was refered to street committee to investigate and report at next meeting.

The usual annual appropriations were granted to the fire companies.

The fire and police committee were ordered to confer with the burgess in regard to taking action to prevent hollow eveing.

Mr. Keller moved that Mr. Bradley be awarded the contract to lay a grooved plank floor, carried.

Mr. Shortlidge was in favor of the motion but wished it to go on record that he was in favor of using some preparation to preserve the wood.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Water pay roll	$68 20
S. H. Williams, glass and painting	86 18
Wm. B. Rankin, premium on boiler	15 00
Street pay roll	62 25
Police pay roll	35 00
Logan Steam Engine Co., Appro.	250 00
Undine	200 00
T. Shaughensy, market clerk	1 00
Geo. T. Bisel, Salviage on boro law	2 10

Suspends Publication.

The Daily Bituminous Record, of Philipsburg, which started out with such bright prospects nine days ago, has already suspended publication. They have found that running a daily in a town of the size of Philipsburg, is not what it is cracked up to be. We quote the following from their valedictory in their last issue:

"If so soon it was to be done for,
We wonder what it was begun for.

"Shakespeare, or some other poet wrote the above couplet, and we make use of it in announcing the suspension of the Daily edition of the Bituminous Record. We have had an elegant sufficiency of running a daily newspaper in a town of this size. We had an idea that it was hard work, but never dreamed that it was quite so slavish.

"The circulation at this time is larger than we expected it would be in a week's time, but the cream has been gathered, and the number that might have come afterward would not have earned for the venture a sufficient amount to pay for the time and labor put on the paper.

"We, therefore, retire as gracefully as we can, and will now devote our time to making the weekly Record better than it has ever been.

"In conclusion we return our thanks to a public that has been sufficiently generous in its patronage to the Record office to enable us to pay every obligation assumed in connection with the daily, and to retire from the field of daily journalism without any loss, lots of honor and bushels of experience. It seems we led from a short suit."

We are sorry that our brother could not make his venture pay, but we could have told him that he would find that the town of Philipsburg, although a live place, was not large enough to give proper support to two daily papers, and the result could only be a struggle for supremacy, involving a considerable financial loss. The same attempt was made in Bellefonte and resulted in a failure after a large sum had been lost in the venture. We feel certain that the projectors of this scheme were wise in retiring from the field in time.

Mr. Harry Lose and Miss Bertha Bryan, of Curtins Works, were married Wednesday morning at the brides home at the above mentioned place.

FOOT BALL FATALITY.

A Former Bellefonte Boy Was the Victim of the Accident.

AFFAIR OCCURED AT BELLWOOD

Died While Being Carried Off the Field—At One Time Clerked In Keplinger's Drug Store in This Place.

HE WAS 21 YEARS OF AGE

Ben Rich, a young man well and favorably known in Bellefonte, and who at one time clerked in the drug store now ran by the Krumrine brothers, was killed in a foot ball game at Tyrone last Saturday. The following particulars are taken from Monday morning's Altoona Tribune:

Benjamin H. Rich, the left halfback for the Tyrone football team, met with accidental death in a game with the Bellwood eleven on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon.

Up to the time of the sad occurence, the game had been played in a gentlemanly fashion, there being no "slugging" or unnecessary roughness. The members of both teams were on friendly footing with each other, and though Tyrone was losing everyone was in excellent spirits.

Near the end of the game, when Bellwood had the ball, it was given to J. H. Miller, the Bellwood left tackle, to make an end run. Rich broke through the interference and tackled Miller, as he was running low and hard. Both men fell heavily, Rich's head striking a stone or the hard ground, with terrible force. Both men scrambled to their feet, and Rich walked aimlessly about for a few seconds then he gasped out:

"Boys, I'm afraid you'll have to put someone in my place. I can't see."

Several players ran to him to help him to a seat, but before this could be done he sank into unconsciousness. Dr. W. H. Morrow was hastily summoned and he was removed from the field on a stretcher. Not anticiany serious consequence of the accident the two teams resumed play and finished the game, Bellwood winning by a score of 22–0.

Meanwhile a sad procession had started for the Bell house, the central figure being the unconscious form of Rich, which lay on a stretcher carried by two friends. Dr. Morrow was in attendance and he was shortly joined by Dr. B. B. Levengood. A short distance from the football field Rich expired, though the carriers and the physicians did not note this fact until the body had been carried some distance.

When the tragic sequel to the game became known in the town, intense excitement was manifested. The Bell house, where the body lay, was thronged with people, eager to learn the final decision of the physicians. When it became generally known that Rich was dead, beyond doubt, it sent a thrill of sadness to every heart, and brought tears to the eyes of many who had known and loved the young man whose life was so sadly ended.

Coroner McCartney was advised of the matter early in the evening. He deputized his son, Harry A. McCartney, to act for him, and that gentleman accordingly went to Bellwood and empanelled a jury to inquire into cause of death.

The testimony of George Bateman, Tyrone; J. M. Pannebaker, Tyrone; W. T. Cornelius, Bellwood; D. H. Raugh and H. W. Tweed, was taken. These witnesses all agreed that Rich had tackled J. H. Miller while running and that both had fallen together, Rich's head striking the ground or a stone. The witnesses further agreed that Rich had drunk a great deal of water before and during the game, the weather being very warm. The fatality was purely accidental and might have been due to Rich's lack of robust physical training, he having indoor employment. Drs. Morrow and Levengood testified that death was probably due to internal hemorrhage of the brain, due to a severe blow or shock. After an hour's deliberation the jury returned the following verdict:

"Death was caused by internal hemorrhage of the brain, superinduced by over exertion and a fall while tackling J. H. Miller, and striking his head on the ground or a stone. Death was purely accidental."

Benjamin H. Rich, was the only son of J. Gillingham and Annie E. Rich. His father died some years ago from an accident while lumbering. The son was born at Unionville, Centre county, Pa., January 1, 1876, and at death was aged 21 years, 9 months and 15 days. He had been a drug clerk in the store of Judson S. Smith, Logan avenue and Fourteenth street, Tyrone, for a year and resided with his mother on North Pennsylvania avenue, in the Mrs. S. M. Study block. He leaves to survive. his mother in Tyrone, and one sister, Eva J., of Overbrooke, Pa. His remains were taken to Tyrone on Saturday evening on the 9:33 express and removed to the undertaking establishment of Kirk Camp & Co., to be prepared for the sepulchre. Sunday afternoon they were removed to the home of Mrs. Study, where services were held Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Albert J. Weisley preparatory to being taken to Unionville, Centre county.

The deceased was an exemplary young man, industrious and careful in his habits, and his sudden demise is sadly regretted by many friends, whose ardent sympathies are extended to the greater bereaved. His mother departed on Saturday morning to visit friends near Pittsburg. Her request that he would not engage in the football game was unheeded, and the sad summons of her only son's death brought her back to the once happy but now desolated home at an early hour Sunday morning.

On Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, all that remained of Bennie Rich, was laid in the tomb to await the summons of him who said, "I will come again."

We can hardly express our sorrow in writing, it seems more like a dream to us but we are told that our lives are but a dream or vapor, which quickly vanishes away. And so it was with our good young friend, he arose in the morning, bright, well and happy, and before sunset, he had gone to that far away home. So we cannot tell what a day may bring forth and this is certainly a severe lesson to many, which makes us remember that our lives are not our own. The services on Tuesday afternoon were conducted by Bennies pastor Rev. Dr. A. J. Weisley, of the Presbyterian church of Tyrone. He spoke very beautifully of the life of the departed one. His talk was based on the 14th verse of the 4th chapter of Revelation, also a choir consisting of nine of Ben's most intimate friends rendered some very sweet music, They were Mrs. A. J. Weisley, Mrs. Camp Misses Eva Miller, Jennie Sauser, Mary Piper, Messrs. Frank Vogt, Chas. Laird, William Barr, Chas. Vogt.

The floral tribute was something grand; the room tables and the casket were literally covered with choice cut flowers. A special train was chartered by the young people of Tyrone and nearly a hundred were present, which showed the love and honor they had for this one who certainly was a friend to every one.

Six young men selected from the foot ball team acted as pallbearers. They were Messrs Guy Waring, Harry seeds, Bert Trout, Wm. Beyers, John Guyer, Samuel Ross.

It is hinted that the Democratic ticket of 1900 may be Henry George, of New York, and Tom Johnson, of Ohio, on a platform of single tax. The party must have an issue, you know, and as free trade and free silver are dead there seems to be nothing else left.

CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOPS.

They Are Now in Session in the City of Washington.

MANY PROMINENT PERSONS THERE

They Will Consider Questions of Policy and as to the Administration of the Church in the United States.

THE INITIAL FEATURE GIVEN

WASHINGTON, October 19.—The meeting of Catholic archbishops to consider questions of policy and administration of the church in America and of the directors of the Catholic university to pass upon the affairs of that institution, has brought together a notable assemblage of Catholic dignitaries All of the prominent figures of the church are represented including Cardinal Gibbons. Archbishop Martinelli, the papal delegate; Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; Archbishop Williams, of Boston; Archbishop Chapelle, of Santa Fe; Archbishop Keane, the American representative at Rome; Archbishop Riordan, of San Francisco; Bishop Farley, of New York; Bishop Foley, of Detroit; Bishop Horstmann, of Cleveland; Bishop Maes, of Coyington; Bishop Hoban, of Esie:

The meeting of the directors of the university begins at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The directorate is made up of the cardinal and most of the archbishops, with five bishops and three lay members. Unusual interest has attached to the meeting; owing to reports that charges would be preferred against Monsignor Schroder, who occupies the chair of dogmatic theology in the university, with a view to his removal. These reports were a prevailing topic of comment among the churchmen to-day, but there was the greatest reticence in discussing the subject for publication. The officers of the university declined to say anything on the subject. It is generally understood, however, that the status of Monsignor Schroeder will be brought before the board. He has been a conspicuous member of the faculty in part to the identification with the German mothership of the church and his efforts to establish a chair of Germanic languages, toward which many German societies have contributed. It developed in the course of the discussion of the subject to-day that Monsignor Schroeder has received assurances from Rome which, in the opinion of his friends, will be decisive in putting an end to any movement toward his removal. It was stated by those conversant with the controversy that this assurance was in the form of a letter from the pope, in substance stating that Monsignor Schroeder must not be disturbed in his present field of work.

The initial feature of gathering of churchmen occurred at the university chapel this afternoon, when Dr. Conaty, rector of the university, was invested with the title and dignity of a monsignor. Cardinal Gibbons performed the ceremony of investure and Archbishop Keane made the address.

His Life Knocked Out.

Thursday afternoon about 1 o'clock as the brakeman on the west bound local freight on the Beech Creek railroad was walking on top of the cars, while the train was running a few miles above Mill Hall, he was horrified to find lying on a car the prostrate form of A. H. Clark, a fellow brakeman. The head of the man was badly crushed. It is supposed that the injured man had been struck by the overhead bridge above Mill Hall.

The train was backed down to Mill Hall and the young man was taken into the Beech Creek station. where he died without regaining consciousness. Coroner Hayes was summoned, but when that official arrived and heard the statements of the train crew he decided that the holding of an inquest was unnecessary.

The dead brakeman was between 23 and 26 years old. Up until a few months ago he had worked for the Beech Creek company at Patton, but since then had been running on local freight. His parents reside at English Centre. His remains were taken to Jersey Shore the same afternoon.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Will Get His Damages.

Simon B. Brown instituted proceedings in the Lycoming county court some time ago and was given a verdict for $5,000 for damages to his land, which damage was caused by alleged improper constructions of the Fall Brook railway. The case was appealed to the supreme court, and that body affirmed the judgment of the lower court,

SOUGHT TO KILL HIS WIFE.

Serious Shooting Affray at the Rail Road Station Philipsburg.

A serious shooting affray started the city of Philipsburg last Saturday night which might have given Centre county another hanging match, Samuel Gilham shot his wife perhaps fatally in the Pennsylvania Railroad station at that place Gilham formerly resided in Philipsburg but seperated from his wife about four month ago and since then has been working in Shamokin. He returned Saturday night having made arrangements with his wife to meet him at the station.

On getting off the cars he went up to her, asked her to walk to the rear of the station, and, when she refused, caught her by the head with one hand, and drawing a pistol from his pocket with the other, shot her through the head, inflicting a wound which the physicians at first feared would prove fatal. The bullet went in under the left ear and came out under the right. The wounded women was at once removed to the Philipsburg hospital,

The train for Tyrone was just pulling out at the time and the would be murderer boarded this telling the conductor that he wanted to get off the train at Hawk Run, about three miles from Philipsburg. The conductor informed him that the train did not stop at Hawk Run, but in spite of this fact Gilham jumped off when the train reached there although it was running at the rate of 35 miles an hour. Gilham then made his way to his wife's former home near there, it is supposed with the intention of completing the job if it had not already proved successful, he, probably thinking that she would be brought there. When he failed to find her he started and retraced his steps to Philipsburg, making directly for the hospital where his wounded wife lay suffering. He had his pistol in his hand and there is no telling what might have happened had not his wifes father, Mr. Moriarty, met him at the enterance. Moriarity is one of the best men, physically in that part of the country and he at once clinched with the would be murderer. Others came to his assistance and Gilham was soon overcome and in the hands of the law. Gilham was brought to this place Sunday afternoon and lodged in jail to await trial. A telephone dispatch was received at this office Monday stating that Mrs Gilham's condition was very favorable and it is believed she will recover.

The Gun Exploded.

Councilman Ben Shaffer, of the north ward, met with a serious accident Friday which may lay him up for some time. He had borrowed a muzzle loading gun from one of his neighbors with the intention of going hunting on Saturday. At noon Friday he had just finished cleaning it up at his home on East Howard street, when he thought he would fire a load or two just to see how it worked. The first shot went off all right, but when he fired the second one the gun exploded, burning him badly about the face and eyes. At first it was feared his eyesight might be affected, but Dr. George F. Harris, who examined and dressed his wounds, stated that he did not think such would be the case. We hope Mr. Shaffer's injuries may not prove serious and that he will soon be about again.

A Well Deserved Rebuke.

There was a death and fire in a Pennsylvania home at the same time one day last week, It is not often that the devil gets so close onto his prey.

Democratic Watchman.

In the recent death of Mr. Jacob B. Way of Curwensville, Pa., who was a constant member of the M, E. church, and a man who was loved and respected by all who knew him. It seems that the affliction of the family was made harder to bear by their home catching on fire while the body was lying ready for burial. This sad occurence was used by a "Would be Wit" of the Bellefonte Watchman to display his effusive smartness. The joke is entirely too far fetched and the writer of such an article should consider the feelings of the bereaved family.

Snow Shoe, Pa., Oct 18th, 1897.

Married Wednesday Morning.

Mr. Geo. Williams, and Miss Stella Sechrist, daughter of the Rev. J. R. Sechrist were married Wed. morning at half past eleven at the home of the bride in Howard Pa., by the Rev. A. Stapleton, presiding elder of the central district of the Evangelica church.

Mr. Williams is a young man well and favorable known in Bellefonte, and we wish them happiness and prosperity. This happy couple passed through Bellefonte enroute for Pittsburg where Mr. Williams is employed as a clerk in a large store.

REPUBLICANS ARE VIGILANT.

Unusual Activity in a So-Called "Off Year."

BEACOM AND M'CAULEY EVERYWHERE ACCEPTABLE

The Lunacy of Demagogues Will Allure Few From the Sturdy Old Party.

As in a medical museum, where there is collected all the monstrosities of human birth, so in the history of the country we may find numberless miscarriages and pessimists in politics that seem like national nightmares viewed at the distance of their dismemberment. In a country like ours, where there is the utmost freedom of action and perverseness of thought allowed, it is no wonder that cranks and the contagious lunacy of demagogues find followings.

There is the Greenback party—in the language of Brietman, "Where is dot bardy now?" Then there is Populism, dead now and dissected on the western plains. Latterly the silver craze came—and went, and no man knows its burial place. Some men lost their wits in the pursuit of what is called prosperity, and in their chase for the golden fleece were led to believe that free silver was the true panacea for all the ills of hard times. But they are slowly coming back to consciousness and reason; they see the idiocy of the assumption that wheat followed silver as it fluctuated on the board of the market exchange.

The fact is that there are never more than two great parties in our country. True, there may be numberless side shows, like the fat woman and the living skeleton at the country fair, but after all there will only be two great divisions. They are the Democratic party of colossal blunders, and the Republican party that has stood like a rock for all that is best in human progress, and which has been vindicated again and again in the most decisive manner before the people. The patriot and the citizen indifferent to his rights, alike, may find their highest ideals in it.

The blessings that have come wth the return of the Republican party to power will be remembered at this fall's election, no loyal citizen being so ungrateful as to strike at the organization that rolled away for him the clouds of despair to follow the side shows of political miscarriages which have so often been repudiated and crushed to ashes by the people. A Republican vote in county and state gives strength to the national life of Republican principles, and these principles up to the present have reached the highest perfection of human wisdom in directing the affairs of the great republic of the west.

TWO OF THE BEST.

McCauley and Beacom Both Strong Candidates.

From the Wilkesbarre Record.

The present campaign is the quietest and least exciting Pennsylvania has known in many years, and yet it is altogether probable that a fairly large vote will be polled on the 2d of November. Political interest is not lacking in any important section of the state, but after the prolonged excitement of last year, and knowing that a sharp battle awaits them next year, the people of Pennsylvania, as if by common consent, want this off year to be free from political turmoil. The Republicans realize that there is no necessity for putting forth special efforts in order to elect their state ticket, and the Democratic party is so completely demoralized as to be unable to inject any vitality into the campaign. The Republicans are not manifesting their customary enthusiasm because they are not confronted by an opposition sufficiently formidable to challenge them to battle.

The two candidates on the Republican state ticket, Major McCauley and Mr. Beacom, are now making a tour of the counties and meeting their fellow Republicans. While both have been active in politics and important factors in the party in their own counties, neither has ever been before the people for a state office, but both enjoy exceptional popularity where they are best known. As to character and ability, Major McCauley and Mr. Beacom easily rank with the best men ever nominated by either political party for the offices of auditor general and state treasurer. Major McCauley belongs to the older class of Republicans and is a veteran Republican, as well as a veteran soldier, and bears with him the evidence of his bravery as a defender of his country on the field of battle. To Luzerne county people no appeal is necessary for them to support so gallant a soldier who was identified with a Luzerne organization on many a bloody field. Major McCauley will receive an exceptionally large majority throughout this section of the state.

Mr. Beacom, the nominee for state treasurer, as we have said, belongs to a younger class of Republicans, but in political warfare he is also a veteran. To him, probably more than to any other one man, belongs the credit for the intelligent, persistent and well directed efforts by which Westmoreland has been redeemed from the Democratic party and permanently located in the Republican column. By education and training he is especially well equipped for the intelligent and careful performance of the duties of state tregsurer. He is familiar with financial affairs in a large scale, and at his home in Westmoreland county, where he has occupied places of the greatest responsibility, the people have the most unbounded confidence in his ability, integrity and fidelity.

Major McCauley and Mr. Beacom were nominated as the clear and undisputed choice of the Republican state convention. That body voted unanimously for Major McCauley, and with nearly equal unanimity for Mr. Beacom, and they are entitled to the hearty and united support of their party. We are confident that in Luzerne county there will be no defection against either, although it is apparent that Major McCauley will run very far ahead of the ticket, owing to the fact of his magnificent military record and his former residence here. He would lead almost any colleague on the ticket to the same extent that he will Mr. Beacom. In Luzerne, as throughout the state, the Republicans are united and harmonious on the state ticket, and while the vote and the majority cannot be expected to reach the figures of last year's election the Republicans will win by a majority of splendid proportions, both in the state and county.

NOT SMELLERS FOR SCANDAL.

The Republican Candidates Represent a Great Principle.

The following editorial appeared in a recent issue of Editor Schoch's Mifflinburg Telegraph:

What is Republican duty this year?

'Tis plain—undivided, harmonious support of the state and county ticket. Here and there we hear that some good Republican proposes to vote for Swallow, a retired M. E. minister, for state treasurer, the Prohibition candidate—this, he says, to correct legislative evils, to stop this buying of soap, toilet articles, etc., and employment of a few extra clerks and scrub women. Oh my, what folly! Swallow, 'tis true, is cute and clever—some say a demagogue clean cut through and through—certain it is he is obtaining a circulation for his paper, which, to a man up a tree, seems to be his main object in this contest. Well, let him work that chromo, get his circulation and be happy.

The Republican candidate for state treasurer, Hon. James S. Beacom, of Westmoreland county, is a modest, unassuming, stainless man—the noble son of a beloved Methodist minister. He does not pose as one of the "better than thou" people—a saint without blemish—nor even a smeller after evil in others; but he is what we must all admire, a man of the strictest integrity, of unblemished character, a grand Republican—a persistent and efficient worker for the party—pre-eminently able and deserving and in all aspects of the case entitled to the vote of every Republican.

Equally meritorious is Major Levi G. McCauley, of Chester county, the Republican candidate for auditor general. He was a splendid soldier during the late war, served in that famous corps, the Pennsylvania reserves, whose battalions fought from Drainesville to Appomattox; and in the battle before the enemy's capital he had an arm shot away. Add to this his splendid civic record, his fealty to the cause of Republicanism and his high standing as a most reputable citizen, and you have all the elements that go to make up a man qualified for the position of auditor general.

If abuses exist in the party or in the legislature the Republican people will see to it that the remedial process is worked out by the party and a Republican legislature. Trust not your enemy to work reform in your own household. If necessary you can do that business very neatly yourself. Hit not the organization right on the heels of a victorious presidential election, the result of which election being so beneficial to the farmer, manufacturer, mechanic and laboring man. Hit the calamity howler. Resolve to do the right thing once again—vote the straight Republican ticket.

POLITICAL PROHIBITION.

It Has Been Abandoned Wherever Tried.

At a public meeting of a religious association recently held at Steelton, Pa., remarks were made by a number of clergymen and laymen. Mr. Joseph Kearns, of Harrisburg, Pa., delivered a stirring address, concluding with the following, which will be found to be seasonable, forceful and truthful reading:

"No, my friends, the state treasurer cannot in his official capacity either help or hurt the cause which is so dear to our hearts, the sacred cause of total abstinence. Did I say he could not hurt it? I am wrong. He could and does hurt it by dragging it in where it does not belong, where the Prohibition heresy has already dragged it and made it a subject of ridicule and contempt. You are pursuing the right course. Continue on in that course. Wield with a mighty arm the sword of the spirit, of moral suasion, of precent, of example, and of prayer, but let the sword of the ballot and the demagogues who advocate it alone. Every effort to stop the use of strong drink by legislation in the past has failed. We can only judge the future by the past. Make men personal prohibitionists, and then every saloon, brewery and distillery in the land will close their doors. Yes, and the speakeasy, also. Yes, and the opium joint as well, two institutions that have ever flourished where legislative prohibition prevailed, either of which is infinitely worse than the licensed saloon regulated by law and under police surveillance. Continue to create a healthy public sentiment on the question of intemperance. Make men feel it is a disgrace to be intoxicated or be known as habitual tipplers; that it is wrong, sinful, and infamously cowardly to drink in secret and then openly profess to be temperance men, as I personally know some loud mouthed political temperance fellows to do.

"If Prohibition prohibits, if it is a cure for the evils of drink, why has it been abandoned where it has been tried? New York tried it in 1854 and after two years' trial gave it up. Illinois tried it in 1855, but the people repudiated it at the polls. Massachusetts had it for 15 years and abandoned it. Atlanta, Ga., had it one year and repudiated it overwhelmingly. Connecticut tried it in 1854, kept it 18 years and kicked it out in 1872. Ohio and Maryland both tried it in 1855 and both gave it up after five months' sad experience. Delaware had it in 1855 and repealed it in 1857. Wisconsin enacted it twice and the executive vetoed it both times. Rhode Island enacted it in 1853 and abandoned it in 1863. Michigan enacted it in 1853 and repealed it in 1875. Indiana and Nebraska enacted it in 1855 and repealed it in 1856. Texas, Tennessee, Oregon, Michigan, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New Hampshire all voted on it within the past 15 years and buried it out of sight."

Forsaken Their Principles.

From the Huntingdon Globe.

In less than three weeks there will be another election day in Pennsylvania. It will result in the election of the Republican candidates in state and county beyond a doubt. The Democracy is divided beyond hope of reconciliation on the economic questions of the day. The Prohibitionists have forsaken the principles and traditions of their party for the purpose of getting into power and are not talking prohibition at all, but are engaged in the abuse of the Republican party, something that has always been more congenial to them than the advocating of the principles of their party.

The Republican party has nothing to fear from the threats of its enemies. It appeals to the poor man, the business man and the soldier, as it has done in years gone by, and gives them proof of its sincerity. It makes no attempt to disguise the real issues or to go masked in order to carry public favor. The return of prosperity to the country is a fulfillment of its pledge to enact a tariff law such as it has done with noticeable and flattering results. No party whose achievements have been so marked and whose power has been continuous could expect to escape the enemy's dagger. As a party, it is not responsible for some mistakes of its members or those in authority under it. Its principles never vary; it never suppresses real issues in order to ride into power; it never practices deception. Therefore, it commends itself to the voters as the only honest and progressive political party seeking their suffrages. Its past it always presents as a guarantee of its future.

THE ELOQUENCE OF COMPARISON

Result of Free Trade and Protective Laws.

ONE BRINGS RUIN; THE OTHER PROSPERITY.

Sixty Days Under the Wilson Bill and Sixty Under the Dingley Law.

The close of the first 60 days of the operations of the new tariff law and the business improvements which are visible in every direction during that time have suggested a comparison of the conditions during the two months in question with those of the corresponding date in the first year of the Cleveland administration, during which time the free trade congress elected with President Cleveland was just beginning its attack upon the protective system which the Dingley law 60 days ago re-established.

The two periods from July 24 to Sept. 24, in the years of 1893 and 1897, respectively, present a marked contract as to business conditions, and it is possible to obtain from government records some data bearing upon this subject and now especially interesting.

SIXTY DAYS UNDER WILSON LAW.

The following data, gathered largely from official reports, presents a picture of the 60 day period of the year 1893, with which the two months just ended correspond, both as to the portion of the year and the period of the presidential administration and also proximity to tariff legislation.

Week ending June 24, 1893.—Failure of Bezeman, Mont., National bank. Four Denver banks closed their doors. Bank suspensions in other western cities. Two bank failures in Milwaukee and runs on numerous other banks. Commercial bank, of Denver, fails; capital, $250,000. Bank failures at Vernon, Tex., and Knoxville, Tenn.; capital, $200,000. Failure of Tacoma, Wash., National bank; capital, $200,000; also failures of banks at Great Falls, Mont., and Orlando, Fla.; capital, $200,000. Suspension of work in manufactories reported from all sections.

Week ending Aug. 1, 1893.—National banks at Manchester, N. H., and Indianapolis, Ind., fail; capital, $500,000. Failure of First National bank at Spokane, Wash.; capital, $250,000. Ten banks suspend in one day (July 27); capital, $2,000,000. Bank failures in South Dakota, Montana, Illinois, Kansas, Texas, Washington, New Hampshire, and correspondingly large number of business suspensions.

Week ending Aug. 8, 1893.—Collapse of Chicago provision deal and many failures of commission houses. Failure of National bank of El Paso, Tex. Failure of National bank of San Antonio, Tex. Failure of National bank of Muncie, Ind. Fifty-third congress meets in special session to begin its destruction of the McKinley law.

Week ending Aug. 28, 1893.—Encounter between the anarchists and socialists averted by the New York police. Meeting of anarchists broken up by New York police. Failure of National bank at Hindman, Pa. Failure of National bank at Tacoma, Wash. Suspension of manufacturing establishments in numerous states. Announcement by comptroller of the currency that 155 national banks failed during the year ending Aug. 28. Railroad receivers appointed during August for Northern Pacific, Philadelphia and Reading, New England and Pittsburg, Akron and Western.

September.—Railroad receivers appointed for Wisconsin Central, Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis, Cleveland, Canton and Southern and Evansville and Terre Haute railroads. The mileage of roads placed in the hands of receivers during the year 1893 was 25,375, nearly one-seventh of all the lines of the United States, and their indebtedness $1,212,217,033. During the year there were 16,115 mercantile suspensions, involved liabilities amounting to $346,779,889. During the bank suspensions of July loans were made on call at the New York Stock Exchange as high as 72 per cent.

SIXTY DAYS UNDER DINGLEY LAW.

The following statements of revival of manufacturing industries during the 60 days following the enactment of the Dingley law, the period corresponding with the similar dates in the first year of Cleveland's second term, show the contrast between present conditions and those of the corresponding months of the preceding administration. The statements which follow are from Bradstreets' Financial Journal:

Week ending July 24, 1897.—Twenty thousand workmen resume work in the iron and steel industries. Bigelow Carpet company, at Clinton, Mass., resume work; 900 hands. Packer colliery, at Rappahannock, Pa., resume work; 1,000 hands. Columbus, O., Buggy company resumes; 400 men. C. B. and Q. company reports full complement of hands at work in its railroad shops for first time in several years. Chattanooga Tradesmen announces large number of iron furnaces in the south resuming work. McKenna steel works, Joliet, Ills., resume; 400 hands. Spinners at silk mill, Paterson, N. J., receive increase in wages from 5 to 20 per cent. PRtsburg Plate Glass company, Kokomo, Ind., resumes; 800 hands. Jones & Laughlin Iron works, Pittsburg, resume, 3,500 hands. Maine Central railroad increases wages of employes.

Week ending July 31, 1897.—Tod furnaces, Youngstown, O., resume work. Numbers of manufacturing concerns in Connecticut and Pennsylvania resume work. Furnaces at Birmingham and Bessemer, Ala., resume work. Algonquin woolen mills, Passaic, N. J., increase wages 10 to 15 per cent. Atchison Railway company announce inability to supply new cars to meet demands of shippers.

Week ending Aug. 7, 1897.—Ensign Car Manufacturing company, Huntington, W. Va., resumes work. Cleveland, O., rolling mills resume; 2,000 hands. Sugar producers of Louisiana advance wages 16 per cent. Cotton mills at Lancaster, Pa., resume; 1,000 hands. American Watch company, Waltham, Mass., resumes in all departments. Iron works at Mahoning and Lebanon, O., and Birmingham, Ala., resume.

Week ending Aug. 8, 1897.—Fall River iron works resume on full time; 2,700 hands. Fall River Printing company resumes on full time. Columbus, Hocking Valley railroad shops increase from half time to ten hour schedule. Illinois Steel company announces resumption of work. National Tube works, at McKeesport, Pa., announce increase of wages. Union Iron and Steel company, Youngstown, O., resumes work after a long shutdown. Pennsylvania railroad shops at Altoona increase schedule to ten hours. Washington, Pa., Steel and Tinplate company doubles working capacity. Birmingham, Ala., railroad shops extend schedule to ten hours. Lawrence, Mass., hosiery mill resumes; 2,000 hands. Car works at Michigan City, Ind., increases schedule to 12 hours, with two years' work engaged; 1,500 hands.

Week ending Sept. 18, 1897.—Cordage mills at Isaia, O., purchased for $500,000, to be reopened at once after several years of idleness. East Lake woolen mills, Bridgeton, Pa., resume after three years' idleness. Wead Paper mill, Malone, N. Y., resumes after two years' idleness. Large advance in wages of coal miners and conclusion of coal strike.

THE CALAMITY BUZZARD.

He Shrieks For More Misery and Ruin.

From the Kansas City Journal.

The buzzard is the most despised creature of the feathered kingdom. It lacks the courage of but surpasses in appetite all other birds of prey. It attacks only the helpless. It pursues the enfeebled lamb until its victim falls of fright or exhaustion, and then it feeds upon the carcass. It scents decay from afar, and no morsel is too putrid for its stomach.

Like unto this loathsome vulture is the chronic agitator—editor or orator—who thrives upon the distresses of his fellow creature. He finds nothing to his taste in the healthful or the normal. He craves calamity, and when there is none of it to feed upon he becomes gaunt and restive.

Seeking the overthrow of established laws and customs, but lacking the courage of his vicious purposes, he aggravates every form of industrial or social disturbance, and by malicious falsification, dire predictions and subtle cajolery plays upon the passions of the weak or distressed until they are inflamed to violence. He rejoices at strife and bloodshed and uses them to spread discontent and bring about hatred of the laws and those who execute them.

Since the era of prosperity has set in the calamity buzzard has had poor picking to gratify his voracious appetite, which had been glutted to satiation during the hard times. Of late he has been feeding on the miners' strike of the east, which was conducted much too conservatively to suit his purposes. But at last—just before a settlement was reached—the seeds of dissension and revolution, which he had sown with a liberal hand, bore fruit in the Hazleton riot and its lamentable results.

Now behold this carrion bird. Once more he has a carcass to feed upon. The delight of the calamity editor is attested by revolutionary and anarchistic screeds. While good citizens deplore the awful tragedy and are ready to censure those responsible, but urge reason and moderation, this carrion eater revels in the slaughter. In the midst of his ghoulish feast he cries for more. With his destructive beak and cruel talons, dripping with the blood of his poor dupes, he shrieks for more victims, for more discord, for more strife, for more resistance to constituted authority, for more anarchy, misery and ruin.

Should Get Out.

From the Harrisburg News.

There is decidedly very little good political judgment behind the movement in Pittsburg urging the election of W. R. Thompson, of that city, as an independent Republican candidate for state treasurer. Mr. Thompson made no canvass for the nomination prior to the state convention, as he should have done had he aspired to the honor at that time. The whole state was open to him to urge his cause as it was to James S. Beacom. The announcement of his candidacy for state treasurer without even considering it necessary to have a running mate for auditor general leads many to believe that his candidacy is a movement more for personal revenge against Candidate Beacom that it is through an honorable ambition to be state treasurer. Such being the case there is no reason why the Republicans of Pennsylvania should pull his chestnuts out of the fire, especially when two Republican candidates for state treasurer would threaten the defeat of both. If Mr. Thompson is wise he will gracefully get out of the fight, for there is not a particle of chance of him winning.

Republicans, Vote Up.

From the Franklin Repository.

In less than a month the election will be held. Up to this time little interest has been manifested in the matter one way or the other, but during the next four weeks there will be more discussion. It is an off year, which always brings apathy. This should not be the case. It is highly important that every Republican vote should be polled. If the majority should fall this year it will be that much harder to raise it next year in the gubernatorial contest. The Democrats will enthuse over any decline in the Republican vote this year, and rally for the contest of next. Let the majority be so decided that there will be no decline in 1898.

Two Good Men.

From the Allentown Chronicle.

The Republican candidates for auditor general and state treasurer are both excellent gentlemen, who will make good, efficient officials. It would be an injustice to them if they were made to suffer for factional differences within the party. Let every Republican support the regularly nominated candidates. Unless we are much mistaken, those who are not entirely satisfied with some of the leaders of the party will have an opportunity some other time to file their objections without resorting to the questionable practice of cutting the ticket.

Made a Favorable Impression.

From the Wilkesbarre Record.

Candidates McCauley and Beacom received a hearty welcome from the Republicans of Wilkesbarre and other points in the county last evening. They made a favorable impression on those who had not met them before. Major McCauley is no stranger here, and has a host of the warmest friends, among them many Democrats, who will aid in swelling his majority. Mr. Beacom is not personally known to so many, but he will be cordially supported just the same.

Bright-faced, happy, rollicking, playful babies, thousands of them all over the broad land, have in their bodies the seeds of serious diseases, and while they laugh and play are facing death. The mother, in the majority of cases, is unconsciously responsible for this sad state of affairs. Where the mother, during the anxious period, suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism, it is useless to expect a sound and healthy baby. Every woman may be strong in a womanly way, and have robust, happy children.

A wonderful medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the discovery of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It is a medicine that acts directly and only on those delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It makes them strong, healthy and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, stops debilitating drains and soothes pain. It gives rest and tone to the tired nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It does away with the discomforts of the expectant period and makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless. Honest druggists will not offer an inferior substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

"I suffered for years from displacement, debilitating drains, inflammation and weak back," writes Mrs. Bessie McPherson, of 35 So. Main St., Providence, R. I. "I traveled with my husband, and first noticed my weaknesses coming on when the jolt of the cars became unbearable. I stopped traveling but the trouble steadily grew worse. I suffered so that I became despondent and wished for death. I took only a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was permanently cured."

CONSIDERING that the Ohio Democrats started in to make their campaign in that State upon purely national issues, the persistency with which they avoid discussing tariff or currency is quite remarkable.

"GOLD is on its way to New York and the tide of domestic manufacturing interests rises higher each day. The railroads are blocked up with the crush of business all along the line."—From The New York Journal, (Free Silver Dem.)

"THE Dingley deficit still comes thundering down the calendar. For September it is $3,400,000."—Philadelphia Record.

Yes; but that is just $10,000,000 less than the "thundering" deficit of the second month of the Wilson law, which was over $13,000,000.

The Ohio Democrats who are expecting to control the colored vote in that State because of the Urbana lynching, for which, in fact, the Republicans were not at all responsible, should have arranged with their Democratic allies of the South to defer the slaughter of colored Republicans for the crime of office-holding until after the Ohio election.

The United States Treasury has had a larger gold balance since the incoming of the present administration than for many years. The gold balance, which was $117,000,000 in October last, began to grow as soon as Bryan was defeated in November and steadily continued until it reached $153,000,000 in April, and is now but a trifle below that point.

IT is real mean of the Democratic leaders in all the States where campaigns are now in progress to shut out Towne, Bryan and all the other silver orators, and compel them to seek county fairs in Arkansas and Tennessee as a place to which they may give vent to their suppressed emotions.

THE silver orators and organists of the country are filled with delight over the fact that wheat has again dropped below the dollar mark. The cannot "abear" to see a bushel of wheat worth two ounces of silver, when only a year ago an ounce of silver and a bushel of wheat were at the same price.

"WHILE newspaper stories have been somewhat exaggerated, it is an absolute fact that the western farmer's financial condition is wonderfully improved. During the past three years he practised such economy that with a slight improvement in wheat prices last fall and fair values of cattle, sheep, and hogs, the thrifty farmer gradually reduced his debts. With good prices this fall, he is indeed paying off the mortgage. The fall in the interest rate is as remarkable as the other features of the rising tide."—From American Agriculturist.

Can it be possible that the "gold powers" have even controlled the producers and commerce of Russia in order to affect the silver question in the United States? Russia's exportation of grain during the eight months of 1897 amounted to only 143,000,000 bushels, against 159,000,000 in 1896 and 202,000,000 in 1895. This, of course, means a large increase in the demand for grain from the United States, and with a further disparity in the prices of wheat and silver. It is just as reasonable to assume that the gold power is responsible for the shortage in Russian exportations as it was last fall to assume, from every Popocratic stump, that Mark Hanna was responsible for the advance in wheat.

RUDYARD KIPLING'S first "Jungle Stories" were written for St. Nicholas, and this year Mr. Kipling will contribute to St. Nicholas a series of stories for boys and girls in what is for him an entirely new vein. They are fantastic stories about animals, and he calls them the "Just-So" stories, because they are meant to be told "just so" to children. The first one will appear in the November St. Nicholas.

Kunes' Saw Mill Burned.

Kunes' saw mill, near Eagleville, was destroyed by fire about 12 o'clock Wednesday night. With the mill considerable lumber was burned, The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is believed to be incendiary, as there was no fire at the mill at that hour of the night. The mill and lumber is partially insured.

THE CALF PATH.

One day through the primeval wood
A calf walked home, as good calves should
But made a trail all bent askew,
A crooked trail, as all calves do.
Since then two hundred years have fled,
And, I infer, the calf is dead.
But still he left behind his trail,
And thereby hangs a mortal tale.
The trail was taken up next day
By a lone dog that passed that way.
And then a wise bell-wether sheep
Pursued the trail o'er vale and steep,
And drew the flock behind him, too,
As good bell-wethers always do.
And from that day, o'er hill and glade,
Through those old woods a path was made,
And many men wound in and out,
And dodged and turned and bent about,
And uttered words of righteous wrath,
Because 'twas such a crooked path;
But still they followed—do not laugh—
The first migration of that calf,
And through this winding woodway stalked
Because he wabbled when he walked.
This forrest path became a lane,
That bent and turned and turned again;
This crooked lane became a road,
Where many a poor horse, with his load,
Toiled on beneath the burning sun,
And travelled some three miles in one.
And thus a century and a half
They trod the footsteps of that calf.
The years passed on in swiftness fleet,
The road became a village street,
And this, before the men were aware,
A city's crowded throughfare,
And soon the central street was this
Of a renowned metropolis.
And men two centuries and a half
Trod in the footsteps of that calf;
Each day a hundred thousand rout
Followed the zigzag calf about;
And o'er his crooked journey went
The traffic of a continent.
A hundred thousand men were led
By one calf near three centuries dead.

AS MARTHA SAID.

BY MAE MESEROLE MERTIN.

"I confess I do not understand you, Joyce."

"And yet you said a moment since that I was but a child."

"Children are sometimes harder to read than their less fortunate kindred of a larger growth."

"I gather from your remark that you consider it better to be a child of quick intelligence than a woman of slow wit."

"That was its purport."

"Then accept my thanks for the compliment."

"Joyce, Joyce, you are hard to please!"

"I think not."

"But how else could I so frequently incur your displeasure?"

"You are so stupid!"

"Now it is my turn to give thanks for a compliment."

"Tim, Tim, you are hard to please!"

Silence. The hammock swings gently back and forth, urged by the alternate pressure of a dainty heel and toe on the bit of worn turf, accompanied by the crisp swish of white duck skirts. From an upper limb of the cherry tree hangs a pair of highly polished tan ties, surmounted by a considerable length of duck trousers. Suddenly the tree is seized and vigorously shaken, and a shower of cherries descends with force. A goodly supply having fallen into her lap, the girl in the hammock calmly makes way with them.

"Beg pardon," says a contrite voice from above. "Did I hurt you?"

"Not at all."

"I am afraid I was angry, and without thinking I shook the limb."

"As Martha would say, 'He that is soon angry——'"

"Ah, but you forget; 'who so provoked him to anger——'"

"By the way, did you know Martha was coming home?"

"No. I am sorry to say I am not honored with your confidence."

"You don't deserve it. I am telling you now."

"Not being deaf, I——"

"You will love Martha."

"I am sure of it."

"Yes, of course. Everybody loves Martha."

"Then surely she could dispense with the little affection I have to spare. Is she like you?"

"In what way? Greediness?"

"Well since you mention it, yes."

"Oh, no! I'm only healthily greedy. Martha is abnormally so. It worries her if people don't fall instant victims to her charms. But she has no cause to worry for they always do."

"I thought her host was an exception."

"To be sure. I forgot him. But then poor old Uncle Dallas never loved any one but himself. He thinks more of Martha than all the rest of us rolled together, though that is not saying a great deal. I am glad he has decided whether to live or die, for I couldn't have gotten along another week without Martha. I hope he'll stay well for a great long time, or else go off suddenly."

"I'm afraid you're a heartless young person, Joyce."

"Oh, no! As Martha was saying before she——"

"Never mind Martha now. I suppose I shall not see much of you after her arrival. Will you play me a set of tennis."

"You have not mended my racquet yet."

"You did not remind me of it. I told you I would forget. I'll do it now."

"What a fib! You thought Tommy would do it if you waited long enough. As Martha tells poor Tom a dozen times a day, 'procrastination is——'"

"Bother Martha!"

"I don't understand you."

"I said bother Martha!

"And had the temerity to repeat it."

"There, there, Joyce! Look out, I'm coming down."

In another second he lands lightly at her feet. Joyce breaks into a gay laugh.

"Who told you not to climb trees in duck trousers? Another time, sir, perhaps you'll listen to my advice."

"The deuce!" says Tim with rueful concern, trying to see the whole of his person at once. And then he looks at her. "Why, Joyce, you wanted some cherries."

"Tommy picked a panful this morning. You were too lazy to go to the house for them."

"Well, never mind. Ducks wash, so it isn't so bad as it might be."

"Meantime?"

"I'l sit in the hammock with you."

"There's no room."

"You can make it."

"If I choose."

"Dear Joyce, won't you choose?"

"Dear Tim, I won't."

"You don't love me, Joyce."

"As Martha was saying, 'If you can't say something, don't speak.'"

"Martha again! Always Martha! I hate Martha!"

"Wicked youth! Never fear, you'll get your deserts."

"Seriously, Joyce, don't you like me a little?"

"To be sure I do—next to Tommy."

"Joyce!"

"But you couldn't expect me to like you better than Tommy. Why, he's my brother."

"Perhaps you are rather tired of having me around, Joyce?"

"That may be. As Martha was saying——"

"Aren't you sorry that I shall never make Martha's acquaintance?"

"But you will. She is coming tomorrow afternoon."

"And I am going in the morning by the early train."

"Nonsense! What for?"

"Well, I think I've neglected father long enough. I have felt guilty ever since reading his last letter; and then you know I have fully recovered my strength after that beastly typhus, and I haven't a shred of an excuse to stay longer. It has been very pleasant, and you've all been uncommonly good to me. I don't like to leave the old place and your sweet mother, but life is not one long holiday. And then you are tired of my hanging 'round."

"But that need not take you off. You can keep out of my way."

"Thanks; I wasn't brought up an adept at dodging folks. Well, I suppose I ought to go over and say goodby to the girls at Moor Lodge. I'd ask you to acompany me only you seem to be weary of my society."

"Shall you return soon?"

"Oh, yes, by bed-time, unless they invite me to stay. If I am not back by six, you'll explain my absence to your mother, will you not?"

"I don't mean that. From the city, you know?"

"Oh, I beg pardon! But why should I return? I'm perfectly well now."

"To see—Martha."

"Oh, Martha——"

"Yes, but don't put yourself out, you know, because Martha has plenty of friends."

"So I judged. Do you think she would care to see me?"

"I think she would. I told her all about you. Please don't swing me. I like to sit still. As Martha was saying, I—I mean you——"

"Well, what was Martha saying? By Jove, since it has got to be Martha, let it be Martha once and for all! What was the oracle saying this time?"

"I'll not tell you."

"Joyce, you are blushing!"

"I'm not. Please, Tim, don't step on my toes."

"Dear Joyce, I will if I like. I insist upon knowing what——"

"Oh, Tim, your knees will be smeared with—dirt!"

"Never mind my knees. Ducks can be washed, you know. You are blushing, Joyce. Tell me what Martha was saying."

"Never!"

"You're ashamed of it."

"I am not."

"Then tell me, won't you, Joyce?"

"No, Martha——"

"Never mind that part. What was it she said?"

"Tim, do you love me?"

"Oh, Joyce!"

"Then, don't ask me what Martha was saying."

"I won't if——"

"If what?"

"You'll make room for me in the hammock."

"Well, there! Oh-h, Tim!"

"What's the matter? Are you not comfortable?"

"Ye—es, but——"

"But what? Now don't say you don't because you do. I see it in your eyes. Ah, my dear, I know what Martha was saying!"

"You don't."

"Shall I tell you?"

"Yes."

"Then look into my eyes. Can you see the reflection of yours?"

"Yes."

"What else can you see?"

"N—nothing."

"No fibs, Joyce. Deny it if you dare. Well, that's what Martha was saying."

AND now cotton seed is joining all agricultural products in "parting company" with silver. A large increase in the price of cotton seed meal is reported, with a prospect of still further advances. Indeed it is difficult to find a farm product anywhere that has not advanced during the very time that silver has been falling. If our silver friends are unable to account for all these advances through the famine abroad, will they admit that any part of it is due to the Dingley law?

"Away With Melancholy,

And bid dull care avaunt," sounds very well in verse, but if you have a case of the "blues" caused by indigestion, with biliousness added on as an extra horror, you cannot say hey! presto! and thus insure the departure of those abominable twins. The "proper caper" when thus troubled, is to seek the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Thereafter you will speedily digest with ease and eat with appetite, and your liver will reassert its right to regularity. Not only this, you can retire without the horrible dread that the Washington monument will—in dreams—impose itself upon the pit of your stomach. If you feel premonitory symptoms of chills and fever, kidney trouble, or rheumatism, summon the Bitters to the rescue without delay, "lest a worse thing befall you." A feeble condition of the system is more speedily changed to a vigorous one by this fine tonic than by any other medicinal agent in existence. A wineglassful three times a day.

The Perfect Apology.

The famous Clyde pleasure steamer Iona was leaving Rothesay pier when one of the sailors, pulling the castingrope on board, by accident struck a lady's lapdog, which yelled and caused its owner to exclaim: "You stupid fellow!" to which the sailor, a new hand, and somewhat roughtongued, retorted rudely by desiring her to go a certain place."

The lady, much offended, complained to the captain, with the result that Donald was sent for and informed that he must apologize. The man accordingly returned to the scene of his rudeness and addressed the offended dame. "Was you the lady," he inquired, "that I told to go to h—l?" "I was," she replied. "Well," returned Donald with conciliatory mildness, "you needn't go now."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Married at Howard.

Mr. H. B. Neff, of Roland, Centre county, and Miss Ida R. Leathers, of Howard were married Thursday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at the brides home, by Rev. A. P. Wharton, a Methodist preacher, in the presence of a large company of admiring relatives and friends. A wedding feast and reception followed the tieing of the nuptial knot. Mr. and Mrs. Neff left for a short trip to Altoona returning to Roland Friday afternoon. The groom is a painter by trade.

Married.

Thursday, October 14; 1897, by Alderman John W. Harris, at Lock Haven, George Lovett, jr., of Gallagher township, and Martha Watkins, of Howard, Centre county.

For Over Fifty Years.

It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by all druggists in all parts of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Of Interest to Golden Eagles.

TRENTON, N. J., October 13.—The supreme castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagles to-day elected the following officers:

Supreme chief, E. V. Moore, of Ohio, supreme vice chief, W. C. Hunter, of New Jersey; supreme master of records, A. C. Lyttle, of Pennsylvania; supreme high priest, Ely W. Lefeber, of Kentucky; supreme sir herald, J. B. Roberts, of Massachusetts; supreme first guardsman, Daniel Hillock, of New York; supreme second guardsman, A. McDonald, of Colorado; supreme medical examiner, Dr. George Whitehead, of Maryland.

The supreme council will hold another session to-morrow, when matters pertaining to the internal workings of the organization will be taken up.

New Territory of Lincoln.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13.—Special correspondence of the Call from Alaska brought via St Michaels, conveys the news that it is proposed to establish a new Territory, to be known as Lincoln, out of northwestern portion of Alaska. Its boundaries have not yet been fully decided upon, but it will include the Yukon River country and extends north to the Arctic Ocean. The scheme meets with the approval of the North American Transportation and Trading Company, the officers of which recently held a conference on the matter with Senator Carter, of Montana, and several other United States officials.

The new town of Weare, situated on the Yukon, about half way between Dawson City and St. Michaels, has been chosen for the capital of the proposed Territory. It is understood that Eli Gage, son of the Secretary of the Treasury, is a prominent candidate for Governor in case a territorial organization if effected.

Britain to Reply Saturday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A London cable to the Evening Post to-day says: "I understand that the British government's reply to Senator Wolcott and the other United States bimetallic commissioners is to be given on Saturday, after the Cabinet meeting. Meanwhile, a memorial to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, is being extensively signed by bankers, discount house, and merchants, protesting against any action in the interests of silver, especially as to the re-opening of the Indian mints, until the full sence of Parliament can be taken,"

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Sunbury's New Industry.

Sunbury expects to get a new industry in the shape of the Standard Net Manufactory company, which plant is now operated at Mechanicsburg. The company is chartered with an authorized capital of $22,000, one-half of which will be put in at once and the balance reserved for extending the business. The company will manufacture gloves, fly-nets and various kinds of leather goods and expect to open there plant with a dozen or twenty hands by the 1st of January.

Be Not Deceived.

The experience of the Speer N. J Wine Co., after a continuous career of more than forty years in Grape Culture and Wine making has resulted in the production of Grape Brandy that rivals Hennessy and Martell of Cognac. A fine delicate 15 year old Grape Brandy is rare; their Climax vintage of 1876 is becoming celebrated among Europeans who appreciate a pure article. Druggists sell it.

Veteran Oliver Guilty.

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Oct. 14—Joseph W. Oliver, the aged veteran, was found guilty in the Federal Court to-night of the attempted murder of Col. A. J. Smith, late Governor of the Federal Soldiers' Home, near this city.

The Governor's home was wrecked by an explosion of dynamite on June 10 last, and the Governor and his family had a narrow escape. Oliver, the veteran, convicted to-day of the outrage, had previously threatened the Governor. The Federal statutes provide a penalty of only three years' imprisonment for Oliver's offense.

—Vote for Beacom.

—Vote for McCauley.

—Vote for Williams.

—Vote for Cleaver.

—See that your neighbor votes for Beacom, McCauley, Williams and Cleaver.

MAKE up your mind to vote the whole Republican ticket. Don't scratch a name. Vote as a matter of principle, and cast your ballot for the nominees of the Republican party.

THE Republican candidates for Auditor-general and State Treasurer are both excellent gentlemen, well qualified for the positions to which they aspire. Let every true Republican give them their unbounded support.

IT must have given the Ohio Democracy a pain to observe the other day that Senator Hanna, Governor Bushnell, and Senator Foraker spoke together from one stand and gave fresh evidence of the falsity of the Democratic claim of dissension in Republican ranks in Ohio. Nothing has been heard of any similar co-operation on the part of McLean, Chapman, and Brice.

LET every Republican support the regularly nominated Republican candidates. The blessings that came with the return of the Republican party to power, should be remembered at this fall's election, no loyal citizen being so ungrateful as to strike at the organization that rolled away for him the clouds of despair. A Republican vote in state and county gives strength to the national life of Republican principles, and these principles up to the present time have reached the highest perfection of human wisdom in directing the affairs of this great Republic.

REASONS FOR USING

Walter Baker & Co.'s

Breakfast Cocoa.

1. Because it is absolutely pure.
2. Because it is not made by the so-called Dutch Process in which chemicals are used.
3. Because beans of the finest quality are used.
4. Because it is made by a method which preserves unimpaired the exquisite natural flavor and odor of the beans.
5. Because it is the most economical, costing less than one cent a cup.

Be sure that you get the genuine article made by WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Established 1780.

Let us Have no off Years.

Let us have no off-year in politics in the State or in the county. There is always an inclination to let things take their own course in years when there are few officers to elect, on the supposition that it is not important and that it is a good time for the independent voter to make himself felt. The Republicans of Centre county should not fall into this error. The experience of past campaigns should teach them that we cannot ourselves or encourage others to relax their efforts to secure complete party sucess at the polls in off-years. We become indifferent and lead others to a similar indifferent course of action, and this careless indifference follows us when campaigns of more importance are claiming our attention and call for earnest and continuous effort. In past years we have had the example of men high in the councils of the party and dearly beloved by many of its members who through influence with their friends, have spread discord and dissensions through our ranks, for personal reasons only. We should always remember and consider devotion to the time honored principles of our noble party, as above all personal considerations, in fact, the party and its cause is greater than any man or faction, and when party leaders ask the people to serve them and disregard the loyal allegiance they owe to their party, then it is the duty of true Republicans to say at once: "Get thee behind me Satan." In a campaign lately past certain party leaders ordered the defeat of P, E. Womelsdorf, one of our candidates for the legislature. This should have had no effect on good Republicans. Mr. Womelsdorf was regularly nominated, and was entitled to the united support of the whole party. Republicans remember to their sorrow what the result was viz, the defeat of both candidates for the legislature and the sheriff. We repeat, therefore, let us have no off-years, nor allow personal considerations to influence us to disregard our obligations to the party in the county, state or nation. We can see how God has rewarded the people for their triumph last fall, in the cause of right principles of government. How we have been blessed with abundant harvests, how idle labor is beginning to find employment.

All men ought to be duly thankful for the good things that come to them. There has been a splendid triumph over free trade and free silver, and once more American workingmen dare to lift their heads and be men; once more the factories are running on full time and orders are coming in. There is every reason for special rejoicing and special thanksgiving. What better way is there to express satisfaction than to go to the polls and vote?

A great majority in the state is in every way desirable. Republicans should not lose any ground this year. They must remember that the enemy is always alert and always ready to take any advantage when the sentries sleep at their post and and the army is napping. Let there be no apathy. Let the Republicans of Centre county join with their brothers of the State and make it a point to see to it that they do their share in the effort that their Commonwealth shall remain the banner state, and let them prove by their acts that they mean business; that they are indeed thankful that the thongs of Democracy have been cut. Let us see to it that the Democracy shall not have the slightest ground for hope in the future.

Let us make a grand and glorious country, and we can do it by giving the Republican candidates on the State and local Ticket an overwhelming majority.

Let us poll every vote possible for James S. Beacom, for State Treasurer; Levi G. McCauley, for Auditor General; W. S. Williams, for Jury Commissioner, and Jesse Cleaver, for County Surveyor.

Half Moon Epworth League Convention.

A convention of the Epworth Leagues of Half Moon charge was held in Gray's church, Oct. 8th and 9th. The topic for discussion was "What Can Our Young People Do in Revival Work?"

The first session opened Friday evening with a praise service followed by a forcible sermon by Rev. Minnich, of Port Matilda,

Saturday morning after a short devotional and experience meeting led by Mr. J. C. Hartsock, Mr. George Ebbs discussed the question "The need of moral courage."

The afternoon session opened with a song service, led by Mrs. Runyan, after which there were general discussions on the topic "When and how to hold a revival." Great stress was laid on the "Necessity of child conversion." Two excellent papers on "Bringing the little ones to Christ" were read by the Misses Dora Kephart and Sarah Hartsock. The evening session opened with a praise service, led by Mr. William Tressler, then Rev. J. H. Lever talked on the "Need of Spiritual Power."

"The necessity of the Day of Pentecost" was ably discussed by the popular Rev. R. W. Runyan. This closed an interesting and profitable convention.—Watchman.

Copies of the Ohio silver Democratic platform are becoming as scarce as copies of John McLean's gold bond. They are not popular subjects with the Democratic orators either in that State or elsewhere.

HOME SECRETS.

Bellefonte Mothers Keep Them; but With a Little Light There Need be None.

How carefully mothers guard the secrets of their boys and girls. At night as she carefully tucks the bed clothes around them she chides and warns that mother will be angry if they repeat last night's offence, softly saying to herself its only a habit, but I must break them of it. This is a mother's mistake. And children can not help it, and sweet, clean, dry beds can be the resting place of every child when it is understood that the cause is not a habit, but a weakness, that can be cured. Active life of the little ones tends to weaken the kidneys, and weak kidneys mean inability to retain urine. This is a condition not a habit, and should have the same attention you would give to the symptoms of any disease. One of Doan's Kidney Pills taken twice a day and at bedtime will strengthen the kidneys of a child, and in a short time there will be no cause to scold, for the so called habit will disappear promptly.

Here's a greatful mother that adds her indorsement to our words.

Mrs. W, E. Bryerton 101 Fourth street says; "My daughter 8 years old had at the age of four, a servere attack of messles. When she recovered, she was left with weak kidneys and the trouble developed into a urinary difficulty. We doctored for it, but made little or no headway. Last fall, she with other children, had the typhoid fever. It aggravated it and she complained of her back aching and continually feeling tired. She had little or no control, of the urine while sleeping in spite of all that the doctors and I could do, It struck me if Doan's Kidney Pills were good for this distressing complaia, in adults, they should be for children and I procured a box. They improved her condition from the start and finally did more for her than all I ever did as well as the doctor. The trouble is gone. Before using the old Quaker remedy, she could not go to Sabbath School. Now I am thankful to say she can go anywhere.

"Doan's Kidneys Pills" for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

A HOBO ON THE RAMPAGE.

Raised Quite an Excitement in Our Little City.

A colored hobo created quite an excitement in our usually quiet town Wednesday Oct. 13. It was about 1 o'clock and the tramp was in search of his noonday meal. He was just making the rounds on South Thomas street and came out of Mr. Rine's house and was about to enter Mr. Bell's residence. Charles and Coke Bell were just getting in their buggy to drive to their work when the hobo came along. Without their saying a word to him, he began to insult them and called them some very vile names. Coke Bell made a move to go for the man, when he reached for his hip pocket and drew a razor. Bell then grabbed a hatchet out of the bottom of the buggy and made for him. The tramp could not stand this and started to run. He ran up the alley back of Wm. Mills' house where Bell caught him. Several blows were exchanged but Coke set too hot a pace for the colored man, so he broke away and ran followed by the Bells and a crowd of men and boys among the number officer Amos Mullen. The man was finally cornered up in a house back of Logan street, and taken into custody by officer Mullen, who, followed by a crowd of several hundred people brought him before Mayor Naginey for a hearing.

After hearing all the evidence in the case, the Mayor decided to discharge the prisoner on condition that he leave town immediately. We failed to learn the man's name; the mayor had taken it down but somehow mislaid the paper. However, from officer Mullen we learned that the man hailed from Charlotteville, N. C. and from another party that his name was James Smith.

Terrible Pains

In the Stomach—Dreadful Headaches—Face and Neck Covered With Boils—Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla—Skin is Now Clear.

"I was covered with boils all over my face and neck. I had dreadful headaches and pains in my stomach. I took medicines, but was not much benefited, and I procured six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking the first bottle I could see an improvement. When I had taken a few more bottles the boils had all gone, my skin was clear, my appetite returned, and my health was entirely restored. I am thankful I ever found such a blood purifier as Hood's Sarsaparilla. I paid out a good deal of money for useless medicines before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. F. BECKWITH, Hurlock, Maryland.

If you decide to try Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Held at Milton.

The 151st annual meeting of the eastern synod of the Reformed church was held in St. John's Reformed church, Milton, this week, opening on Wednesday and continuing in session five days. The mornings and afternoons will be devoted to the business of the meeting while the evening sessions will be spent in popular addresses on educational matters, foreign and home missions, Sunday school and young people's work.

Among the subjects for discussion at the meeting of this Synod will be the question of providing a church building fund, and the failure of certain churches to pay the yearly apportionment. A few complaints by way of appeal from several classes will also be heard.

The Eastern Synod is composed of 12 classes and has 282 pastors, 524 congregations, and 112 students of the ministry, with a total membership of 94,475.

Built by Patrons.

The anncuncement that the Central Pennsylvania Brewing Company, capitalized at $10,000,000, has applied to the state department for a charter, need not cause beer drinkers to fear that it will ultimately be able to compel them to pay more for their beer. The same comments apply to beer trusts as to whiskey trusts, cigarette trusts and others which might be mentioned Their promoters are not the ones who build up such trusts. They give them a start and the public does the rest—if it chooses to do so, There is no law in effect in Pennsylvania compelling anyone to contribute to the building up of a beer trust through indulgence, excessive or otherwise, in that beverage. There is no judicial authority available in the commonwealth to issue an injunction restraining anybody from not drinking beer if for any reason he chooses not to drink it. All the trusts live and thrive on patronage, and much of the criticism bestowed upon the trusts would be more properly directed to the patronage.

Marriage of the Son of President Garfield.

CLEVELAND, O., October 14.—Abram Garfield and Sarah Granger Williams were married at noon to-day at the residence of the bride's father in Glenville. Abram Garfield is the youngest son of the late ex-president. Guests of national prominence were present. Irving Garfield, brother of the groom, was best man.

LUETGERT SMILED.

But the Dimples Were Finally Chased the Other Way.

BY STATE'S ATTORNEY'S SPEECH

It Was the Beginning of the Ninth Week of a Famous Trial and as a Consequence the Attendance Was Large.

HIS PLANS IF MADE FREE

CHICAGO, October 18.—The ninth week of the famous Luetgert trial opened this morning with the greatest crush yet seen at the criminal court building. It was known that to-day would be the closing day of the great trial and that State's Attorney Deneen would make a speech. Thousands of persons formed in line before the criminal court building as early as 7 o'clock in the morning.

Luetgert came into court smiling and apparently in a pleasant frame of mind. He shook hands with a number of his friends and took his accustomed seat.

State's Attorney Deneen promptly began his closing argument. He opened with a defense of several of the leading witnesses for the prosecution.

He closed with a glowing tribute to the memory of Mrs. Luetgert, whose last days of married life, he said, was fraught with sorrow and anguish. The speech was logical, forceful and powerful. Toward the close of it, Luetgert was noticably nervous. He turned uneasy in his chair, and a tremor shook his giant frame. His black hair, combed pompadour, trembled perceptibly and was the subject of comment in the crowded court room. The members of the jury paid the closest attention to the eloquent speech of the young state's attorney, and the vast crowd that packed the court room listened with breathless attention.

Luetgert has finally decided on his plans if he is acquitted. Instead of exhibiting himself and the middle vat about the country, as he had contemplated, he expects to purchase an interest in a down town saloon or open one himself, if a prominent location can be secured, and the vat, the steam pipe, and the great Dane dogs will be exhibited as a sort of side show, while Luetgert passes out beer over the bar.

While getting ready to open a saloon, Luetgert will exhibit himself in some local museum, if he can find a manager willing to pay his price. Luetgert is now demanding $5,000 for a month's exhibition.

The arguments were concluded about 4 o'clock this afternoon and Judge Tuthill charged the jury.

The jury then retired to deliberate and the court took a recess, with Judge Tuthill within easy means of communication.

NOW WITH THE JURY.

The fate of Adolph L. Luetgert, accused of murdering his wife and dissolving her body in a vat filled with caustic potash, is now in the hands of the jury. Judge Tuthill finished his charge to the jury at 4:45 p. m., and five minutes later the jury filed out and was locked in the jury room. At midnight not a word of any sort had come from the jury room, and the chances of an all night wait for the verdict seemed excellent. Rumors of ten to two for conviction, and later of ten to two for acquittal, floated around, but there was no authority for either story. The attorneys on both sides were confident at midnight of a verdict favorable to their side, while the opinion of the public was turning toward a disagreement.

Human Ingenuity.

Certainly, for the mechanic, human ingenuity has never produced a better liniment than Salvation Oil, which now stands unexcelled for curing his sprains and bruises caused by a fall; or cuts and wounds the result of an accident with his tool or saw. Salvation Oil always kills pain. "Recently, I fell about twenty feet and was very much bruised on my leg and side, but after bathing them with Salvation Oil the bruises soon disappeared I think Salvation Oil is just the thing for sores and bruises." A. Jacob Rice, 520 Church St., Easton, Pa. Salvation Oil may be bought anywhere for 25 cents. Substitutes offered by dealers may cost less; hence, do less. Salvation Oil, however, never disappoints the user.

Preservation of Building Timber.

The increase cost of lumber for building purposes and the inferior quality of most of it, as well as the increase cost of the same, is attracting the attention of men who have to pay for it; how the same shall be preserved and its life extended for a much longer period. Timber exposed to dampness and the changes of the weather has but a short life in this climate and has to be renewed more frequently, at great expense, than ought to be. This question was raised before the Council at the last meeting by Mr. Shortlidge, who was opposed to placing wooden joists in a position where they will rot, without using some wood preservative to prolong their life. There are several wood preservatives, the most simple of which and the most easily applied is lime,

Lostal, a French Railway contractor, recommends the use of quicklime for preserving timber. He puts the planks in tanks and covers them with quicklime, which is gradually slaked with water. Timber, such as is used in mines, requires about a week to become thoroughly impregnated. The wood acquires a remarkable hardness and toughness, and, it is said will never rot. Beechwood has been prepared in this way for hammers and other tools in several iron works and is reported to have become as hard as oak, without losing its peculiar elasticity This is not only a simple, but a cheap remedy for preserving wood placed in a position that it is proposed to put the joists in the New Town Building and is worthy of the consideration of the architect.

Thousands suffer from Catarrh or cold in head and have never tried the popular remedy. There is no longer any excuse, as a 10 cent trial size of Ely's Cream Balm can be had of your druggist or we mail it for 10 cents. Full size 50 cents.

ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City.

A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrh. It is a most valuable remedy.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Foreign Exhibits.

Among the important and interesting features of the Tennessee Centennial, the Foreign Department has proved exceedingly instructive and entertaining, and has come to be universally known as the "Palace of All Nations."

The honor and responsibility of canvassing and installing the foreign exhibit was bestowed upon Mr. Antonio Macchi, who went to Europe in its interest. His eminent success is sufficient warrant for the assertion that the task could not have been committed to more skillful and gracious hands. While he is an Italian by birth, he is nevertheless a citizen of the world with an intellectual breadth and sympathy embracing every nationality.

Mr. Macchi has had large experience with expositions. Beginning with the Paris Universal Exposition of 1878 he has since attended all of note that have been held in the world, either as commissioner or official representative. He was in London in '81, Amsterdam in '83, London again in '84-85; Liverpool, '86; Manchester and Newcastle, '87, London again '88; Paris, '89; Edinburg, '90; Jamaica, '91; again in London in '92; and in '93 was Commissioner General at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago; San Francisco, '94; Atlantic, '95; and in July '96, was engaged by the Tennessee Centennial and made Commissioner General for Foreign Department.

The Palace of All Nations was officially opened on the 20th of May, when every exhibit was in position.

Williamsport's Loss.

MY BABY.

"My baby is so fat and healthy since I am well again. As long as I was under the weather my baby was so peevish and thin that it was enough to make me cry to look at it. Your free treatment restored me to health, and immediately my baby began to recover. I had to keep him partly on cow's milk and prepared food, which did not seem to agree with him. Now I have plenty of milk for him, and he is so strong and playful that I can hardly realize my good fortune. There are so few women that are perfectly well. I would not think of trying to get along without a bottle of Pe-ru-na in the house. I do not take it all the time, but there are short spells when I need something to give me strength and help my nerves, Pe-ru-na never fails to give me a good appetite, strong nerves, sound and refreshing sleep. I only wish I could tell every woman in the world about it."

This is a specimen of the kind of letters that Dr. Hartman is receiving every day. Among the letters just received, with request to publish, may be mentioned: Mrs. H. D. Amoss, Greenesboro, Ga.; Mrs. C. Gilson, Bearden, Knox Co., Tenn.; Mrs. Mary F. Bartholomew, St. Francisville. Ill.; Mrs. Michael Eden, Keokuk, Iowa; Mrs. Ochs, Clay Centre, Neb.; Mrs. A. J. Hull, Leona, Kan. This list might be multiplied indefinitely.

Dr. Hartman is the author of a book written expressly for women, beautifully illustrated. It will be sent free for a short time by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio.

CORRESPONDENCE

Howard Happenings.

Mrs. Al Moore, of Flemington, spent Thursday of last week among relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Martin Reese, of Bellefonte, was a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Abraham Holter, last Saturday.

Mrs. William P. Lucas, of this place, and her brother, Mr. Jacob Orndorf, of Jacksonville, made a flying trip to Danville last week.

We were glad to hear from our friends in Walker through the columns of the REPUBLICAN in last week's issue.

Mr. James Kane and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Ambrose Holter, formerly of this place, now of Clintondale.

Miss Lizzie Holter, instructor in the primary school of this place, transacted business in Bellefonte last Saturday.

Mr. Elmer Ertle arrived home from the woods last week, where he has been working this summer.

Misses Mary Kane and Pearl Klapp, two of Lock Haven's highly esteemed young ladies, spent a few days last week, at the home of Mr. Will Weber, on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley, of Ceder Springs, were guests at the home of Mr. Irvin Reber, on Walnut street, over Sunday.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last Thursday at the home of Mr. William T. Leathers, on Grove street. The contracting parties being Mr. Howard Neff and Miss Ida R. Leathers. A large number of guests were present who greatly enjoyed the fine and sumptuous dinner. The presents were numerous, elegant and useful. A further description will appear on another page of this issue.

Mrs. Long, of Lock Haven, a sister of our townsman, Mr. Alexander Henderson, is the guest of her brother on Walnut street.

Mr. Fred Dunham was taken ill quite suddenly last Sunday night, but we are glad to say that he has almost recovered.

The box social held at the home of Dr. L. R. Hensyl last Friday evening, was a grand success. A large number of young people were present and all expressed themselves as having enjoyed a delightful evening.

State College Notes.

Sometime Saturday night a crowd of students broke into the paint shop and stole a lot of vari-colored paint. They then proceeded to the armory and painted its handsome front all the colors of the rainbow. The college will be put to a great deal of expense to remove these stains. The affair is being investigated and if the faculty find out who the perpetrators were they will be stearnly dealt with.

The trouble between the Senior students in the mechanical engineering course and the institution, which threatened at one time to cause the loss of over a quarter of the Senior class, was brought to a satisfactory termination Friday by the arrival of Professor Griffith to take the assistant professorship of mechanical engineering. Professor Griffith is a man of wide learning and experience in engineering lines. He is a graduate of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute and has been the chief engineer for the Towne Manufacturing Company.

Susquehanna's failure to show up here on Saturday gave the 'varsity eleven a chance to line up against the scrub. The men had been worked pretty hard since their return from Princeton, and it was deemed best not to exert them too hard Saturday. The men will be given a rest most of the time from now until Wednesday's game with the University of Pennsylvania. Monday afternoon they lined up for the only time, and their last practice prior to departing for the Quaker City on Tuesday afternoon. The men will be coached in more systematic team work, and an effort made to strengthen the defense. The team has profited considerable by their defeat at Princeton last Wednesday, and it is the general expectation that they will score, possibly more than once, against the University of Pennsylvania. It is probable that a number of students will accompany the team to Philadelphia. The line up for that occasion will be practically the same as in the game with Princeton.

The Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity gave an enjoyable dance at their chapter house Friday evening. The house was very prettily decorated with flowers and black and gold—the colors of the fraternity. The patronesses were Mrs, Montgomery, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Dr. Atherton, Mrs. Mrs. M. C. Ihlseng, Mrs. J. P. Jackson and Mrs. G. C. Watson, of State College

Among those present were Miss Helen Hastings, Harrisburg; Miss Valentine, Miss Lane, Miss Breeze, Miss Meek and Miss Knowles, of Bellefonte: the Misses Dale, Lemont; the Misses Alexander, Centre Hall; Miss Atherton, State College, and Miss B, Thompson, Lemont.

The other fraternities at State College were represented as follows: Phi Gamma Delta, J. S. Albert; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, J. H. M. Andrews; Sigma Chi, H. S. Davis; Beta Theta Pi, W. P. Cochran; Kappa Sigma, J. L. Haehnlen, and Phi Delta Epsilon, C. F. Sponsler.

Several parties of this place have been selling wild turkeys, which they have killed. Such persons should be made an example of.

C. L. Croyle has gone to Stone Valley, where he and a friend will spend the week squirrel hunting.

The Students have been at their old pranks of painting the town.

Chapman the painter says that the next time he stops at Corrigans he will put a lock on his horse leg's.

The reverand Mr. Switzer of Stone Valley is at present stopping at Grieb's Hotel.

Pleasant Gap's Newsy Letter.

Mr. Grant Dunklebarger is building a summer house and when completed will add to the appearance of his already beautiful home.

Mr. Clayton Gettig, one of our prosperous and wide-a-wake lumbermen, is building a house in the lower end of town, and is about ready for the plastering.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dale drove to Williamstown and back last week. Their son Rev. William Dale, is pastor of the Lutheran congregation at that place. They had a very pleasant time, the weather being favorable for driving.

M. F. Riddle, our county commissioner, is getting his house repaired. It will be quite an improvement to that part of our town.

His excellency D. H. Hastings, was seen riding through our town one day last week. He was on horse back and made a fine appearance.

Miss Bessie Wasson, accompanied Miss Blanche Welty to he home for a squirrel dinner on Sunday. Blanche says she ate real hearty.

Mr. John Uhl is kept busy grinding cement. And he sells it as fast as he can manufacture it. John makes good cement and that is the reason there is such a demand for it.

Lemont Locals.

Miss Myrtle Williams and Miss Atwood, two lady clerks of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with the former's parents of this place.

Mr. Cota, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was seen in our vicinity on Monday evening.

Mr. Woods Bathgate spent Saturday and Sunday with his uncle Sam, of near Peru, Pa.

Mr. Samuel Wasson, our coach and wagon maker of this place, has his new house almost completed. Sam expects to occupy it about Jan. 1st, '98.

Miss Verdie Bathgate, a student at the Williamsport Shorthand College, is home on a short vacation.

Mr. D. M. T., our new coal and grain merchant, will not be in his office from 9:30 p. m. hereafter. Huckster Bob E. will attend to duties from that time on in the evening.

Quite a number of our crack sportmen have been out on the mountain hunting, but only a few have been successful enough as to bring home any turkey with them.

Mr. Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte, was seen in our town on Tuesday.

Domestic Joy.

The charm of domestic joy will be preserved, if those parents, who fear the early death of one of their loved ones when attacked with a serious throat or lung trouble, resort at once to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, a never-failing remedy. "I used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for my son, who was eight years old. He has been troubled with a bronchial cough since he was two and a half years of age, and I have tried everything, but found Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup does him the most good." Mrs. A. Geib, 317 Demott St., West Hoboken, N.J. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup costs only 25 cents, and is cheaper than the dealer's big profit making substitute, because Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup always cures while the substitute does not. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

In McCLURE'S MAGAZINE for November the public is to have the first authoritative account of Edison's latest—and apparently greatest—achievement. It has long been understood that Edison was doing something wonderful up in the New Jersey Mountains, though just what no one quite knew. Having brought his enterprise to practical perfection, he is now willing to unveil the secret, and in the November McCLURE'S will appear a full account of the machinery he has devised and the great mills he has erected for digging up whole mountains; dumping them, as it were, into a hopper; grinding them into powder; picking out from the powder, by magnetic attraction, all the iron ore down to the smallest particle; and thereby working a gigantic revolution in the steel industry. The article is to be fully illustrated from special drawings and photographs.

Apples and Wheat.

The fruit and products of Nittany valley are finding sale in different parts of the country. Yesterday another car load of apples was shipped from Salona for DuBois. This last shipment of this fruit makes four or five car loads shipped from the various points along the Central railroad this fall.

About fifteen car loads of wheat have also been shipped from Nittany valley, most of which has gone to eastern markets. Orders that are yet to be filled by Nittany Valley farmers will aggregate about fifty car loads. The grain was never better and the farmer are delighted that the cereal is finding such a ready sale.—L, H. Democrat.

A False Rumor Corrected.

The following statement is published by Joshua Folk to correct the false rumor in circulation to the affect that he was the instigator of the prosecution of Peter Mendis:

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 13, 1897.
CENTRE COUNTY, ss:

Personally before me, a Notary Public, in and for said county, came Joshua Folk, who being duly sworn according to law, says that he had nothing to do with the prompting or commencing of the case against Peter Mendis. And that he had no conversation about this case with W. J. Singer, before the case was commenced, or before Peter Mendis was arrested. That anything he did in the said case was done in good faith and at the request of other parties.

—You should read the NEWS by all means.

The November McCLURE'S will contain the first instalment of Charles A. Dana's "Reminiscences of Men and Events of the Civil War." This promises to be a most interesting series. Sent into the field as the personal representative of Lincoln and Stanton rarely equipped by nature and training for full and accurate observation, and under instructions to let nothing significant escape him, either in men or movements—Dana saw what no other man or men could possibly have seen. The papers are to be illustrated from the recently completed Government Collection of Civil War Photographs.

It is suggested that the real cause of Editor McLean's ambition to get into the Senate is to protect his Washington gas and railroad interests, which are valued at from three to five million dollars. The prices which gas companies and railways may charge in Washington are determined by Congress, and if Mr. McLean could get an eight years' seat in the Senate through this year's Ohio election, it would be of great value to him in the way of protecting his personal interests upon which Congress is liable to legislate meantime.

Plenty of Game Reported.

The opening of the game season was marked with a greater rush of sportsmen to the woods than ever before chronicled. From two to three hundred men were out in the various game resorts. The average luck was very encouraging. Every hunter had from two to as high as 21 squirrels, while many had from two to four raccoons, and more than a dozen wild turkeys were brought in the first day. For small game this section is better stocked this fall than it has been the past ten years.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

What Dun & Co. and Bradstreet Have to Say.

MANUFACTURING LESS PRONOUNCED

At the Same Time There is a Steady Growth of Trade Throughout the Country Now in Evidence.

BUSINESS FAILURES AS GIVEN

NEW YORK, October 15.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of trade to-morrow will say:

Foreign trade in September, the heavy increase in iron production and consumption and the largest payments through clearing houses ever known in October, are indications which outweigh hesitation in some markets. The increase in employment of labor has continued, with further accounts daily of works opening, increasing force of hands or raising wages, and at every point where actual production can be tested it appears greater than ever before. Efforts by the Bank of England have delayed further gold exports, but with a cotton movement rising, large shipments to this side are now deemed certain and not distant. More gold, however, means less just now than more iron.

The output of pig iron October 1 was 200,128 tons weekly, against 112,762 a year ago, the increase since July 1 having been 22 per cent. Unsold stocks have been reduced at the rate of 40,271 tons weekly in September, indicating a consumption exceeding 232,000 tons weekly, which is about 20,000 greater than ever before and 40 per cent. greater than three months ago. Prices of pig hold steady, though production has been further increased since October 1, and prices of finished products gradually rise with especially heavy demand for plates, rods and bars. Ore shipments on the lakes surpass all records. Makers of black sheets have raised the price for No. 28 to $2.10, and wire nails are 5 cents higher, the average of iron and steel products rising 6 per cent. for the week, to the highest point since April 8. Tin plates are cheaper at $3.10 with enormous production, and copper at 11.12 cents for lake, with lead at 4.10; but tin is fairly strong.

The cotton mills are producing largely as cheap cotton invites, and with moderate demand print cloths are lower at 2.44 cents, and some grades of other goods are slightly reduced. Sales of wool for speculation have greatly decreased, but manufacturers do not find that current prices warranted by their market for goods, though it is strong and advancing. The demand for spring goods is limited, but the prices of some qualities have advanced a shade further. There is also some quiet contracting already for heavy weights.

Wheat has been fairly steady, but moving more largely than last year from the farms and from the country. Western receipts were 15,167,054 bushels in two weeks of October, against 14,235.016 last year, and Atlantic exports, 6,463,401 bushels, flour included, against 4,747,845 last year, while corn exports were 3,262,337 against 3,300,925 last year, September exports of wheat surpass all records, amounting to 25,868,838 bushels. Owing to high prices the value was over 100 per cent. larger for all breadstuffs.

Failures for the week have been 225 in the United States, against 328 last year and thirty-six in Canada against forty last year.

THE BRADSTREET VIEW.

NEW YORK, October 15.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say:

The activity in staple lines of merchandise is less pronounced than a month ago, due to interior merchants having supplied their demands for the time, a gradual increase of the territory included by the yellow fever quarantine, the low price of cotton, the tendency in the Missouri river valley and the spring wheat states to hold wheat for higher prices, and to farmers being busy with fall planting. Unseasonable weather has had an unfavorable influence on the distribution of merchandise throughout the central west.

A well informed correspondent, after extended personal investigation, gives good reason for anticipating a much smaller yield of cotton than trade estimates.

The position of the cotton goods industry is more favorable, but woolen goods manufacturers report demand brisk, prices steady. Advances for Bessemer pig iron and steel billets check sales, but prices are firmly held. Some steel mills are not able to keep up with orders.

With the slackening in the rate of distribution of merchandise the upward movement of prices is correspondingly checked, and in this, the third week in succession, the number of staples for which quotations are lower is greater than those which are higher or unchanged.

Must Rise Early to See it.

If clear in the early morning of the 23d inst., a beautiful sight is promised in the eastern heavens, when Venus, Jupiter and the crescent moon will be quite near each other. Those who rise early will see it: those who rise late will hear about it.

THE effect of the increased employment which has been visible since the protective tariff law went into operation is being felt in business circles everywhere. Wholesalers and retailers report a greatly improved business especially in the large cities and throughout the manufacturing districts, while the good prices received by farmers is having a similar effect in the agricultural regions.

THE substantial character of the revival of prosperity is found in the present condition of the iron and steel industry, universally recognized as a faithful barometer of trade. Rolling mills, steel plants, and furnaces generally are actually rushed with orders, and what is of great significance is the fact that the enormous demand is perfectly legitimate, and without the slightest tinge of speculation.

The expectant public is waiting anxiously for Chairman Jones' views and attitude in regard to the recognition of silver by State platforms. One day he announces that he favors it; the next day he announces that he is against it, and the next day he tries to announce that he has said nothing on the subject. Mr. Jones is evidently ashamed of the company that he is keeping, but apparently sees no way of getting away from it. Why doesn't he admit frankly that the silver proposition is a failure, and go back to the good old Jacksonian and Jeffersonian principles of democracy, sound money and protection?

THE Treasury receipts under the Dingley law for the month of September are very encouraging. They exceed those of the second month of the Wilson law, and the deficit for the month will be trifling if indeed any exists at the end of the month. The second month of the Wilson law developed a deficit of over $13,000,000, while the second month of the Dingley law will produce little if any deficit. That is the difference between protective tariff and milk-and-water-betwixt-and-between tariff of the Wilson-Gorman stripe.

It is whispered in Washington that the true cause of John McLean's ambition to go to the Senate is found in his enormous gas and street railway interests in that city. Mr. McLean is the controlling owner in the Washington Gas Works, whose plant and franchise are valued at $5,000,000, and he is shown by the Washington directory to be one of the directors of a street railway company whose capital stock is $12,000,000. Gas and railroad privileges in the District of Columbia are controlled by Congress just as those of a city are controlled by its common council. Congress is therefore the common council of the District of Columbia, and it is as important for a man with five or six millions invested in gas and railroad interests to be for six years a member of Congress as it would be for a man so situated in another city to be during that time a member of the common council.

THE people who are now devoting their attention to a criticism of Mr. Bryan because he wears diamonds should remember that Mr. Bryan must have a place to invest his money. He has been making a great deal of money since he talked himself into notoriety at the Chicago convention, levying tribute at every village at which he spoke during the campaign, and charging enormous prices for his speeches and lectures since that time, while his book is said to have brought him in large sums of money. For this money he must find some "permanent investment." He does not believe that the prosperity which is with us, has come to stay, consequently he cannot afford to invest it in stocks and bonds or business enterprises. He is an enemy of the railroads, he says, though he is quite willing to ride over them on free passes, and therefore cannot be expected to invest in their stocks and bonds. As to national banks, or banks of any sort, he has a horror of them, and takes occasion at every opportunity to attack them. Of course, it cannot be expected that he will "hoard gold." Therefore, what is left Mr. Bryan for investment except diamonds?

"Painless and Delightful Catarrh Remedy"

is the good word which John MacInnes, Wathaback Bridge, N. S., has to say of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, after having suffered from Catarrhal Deafness for years. In 10 minutes from the first application he had relief, and after using but one bottle his hearing was restored in all its natural acuteness. Not an excuse for despairing of a cure with such a remedy within reach of you.—18.

THREE ARE DEAD.

Fatal Results Attend the Falling of a Big Ceiling.

BAD ACCIDENT IN CINCINNATI

It Occured At Robinson's Opera House and There Is No Known Cause. The Top Fell to the Floor, Etc. Etc.

GREAT CROWDS WERE ATTRACTED

CINCINNATI, O., October 15.—About 9-50 o'clock to-night, as the performance at Robinson's opera house was in porgress, the plastering began to fall from the centre of the dome ceiling, forty and fifty feet above the heads of the people in the parquet. This continued three minutes, causing a rush from the house. The theatre and galleries were partially emptied, when the dome in the centre of the roof, with its supporting timbers and trusses, came tumbling down.

The dome extended across the opera house, and was about thirty feet wide. When it fell the ends struck both sides of the gallery, crushing it and scattering timbers in every direction, and finally landing in the centre of the parquet. Scarcely anybody was hurt in the balcony or dress circles.

The injured are those who had not yet escaped from the parquet. The theatre presents the appearance of a disorderly pile of old lumber. Chairs in the parquet are badly demolished. Thousands upon thousands of people are blocking the adjacent streets. There are three dead and thirty-three more or less seriously injured, while many suffered slight injuries, but were able to go to their homes.

Sometimes the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman bundles herself up, to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She allows a slight disorder to become worse, to slowly sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints" was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalid's Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y. He prepared Dr, Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most wonderful effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies.

A Drummer's Story.

A certain traveling salesman for a jewelry house who has had a good trade in this city met with an experience a few days ago such as is calculated to scare a man out of a year's growth. It is the habit with most of the highflying salesmen to engage porters to carry their sample cases from store to store on their rounds. Any number of these porters may be seen any day loitering about the principal hotels waiting for a job. One day last week this particular drummer walked out of his hotel at Ninth and Chesnut streets and turned over his grips to a colored man, who was the first to approach him. The drummer, followed by his porter, walked about a block down Chestnut street to a large jewelry house. The porter was instructed to wait outside the door until his employer came out again, as he didn't expect to be gone long. A few minutes later a man who looked very much like the drummer came out of the store and started up Chestnut street again. The colored man, never doubting that this was his "boss," picked up his grips and chased along after him. When the real drummer emerged from the store and found his man gone he nearly dropped dead. There were several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds and jewelry in the grips. The drummer raced frantically back to his hotel and notified the special officer there, who knew the colored man very well. The officer, happening into the barroom, found the porter standing guard over his grips while the drummer's double drank a cocktail at the bar. The funny part of it was that the double had no idea the porter was dancing attendance upon him.—Philadelphia Record.

WORK SOON TO COMMENCE.

The New Road from Bellefonte to Philipsburg a Sure Thing.

We learn through a reliable source that work will in a short time be commenced on the Bellefonte and Clearfield railroad, the location of which was made under the supervision of Engineer A. V. Hoyt, of Philipsburg. If we have a correct idea about it, the road will start on the Central Pennsylvania between Bellefonte and Milesburg, and passing Unionville will ascend Dix run, then along the eastern slope of the mountain till it reaches the Port Matilda and Philipsburg wagon road at the watering trough about five miles west of the first named place. From thence it will strike across the Six-mile run, up the Horse-hollow branch of that stream, from there across the head waters of Bear run and winding down the western slope of the ridge will approach Philipsburg from the north. As we understand the matter, two short tunnels will be constructed, and this will make the crossing of the mountain feasible on comparatively low grades. The completion of this road will mean much to Philipsburg and the people on this side of the country, one of the most important advantages being a reduction of distance from here to Bellefonte, the county seat, which is now reached by the roundabout way of Tyrone and the Valley road.—Philipsburg Journal.

Hope They'll Get It

Thomas D. Junod, a tanner in the employ of J. K. Crawford & Son, Williamsport, is said to be one of the heirs to a fortune of about $1,000,000, left by an uncle who died in France a few years ago. There are only six other heirs to the fortune, among them being Samuel Junod, of Jersey Shore; John Z Junod, of Clearfield, and a Mrs. Ludwig, af Selinsgrove.

A stomachful of undigested food is about as unhealthy a mass as one can well imagine.

What can be done with it?

There it stays. It won't digest. It churns up, ferments and decays; becomes poisonous (as all putrid matter does) and causes great pain and deep-seated disorders.

In order to change all this, take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It stops fermentation and decay at once, so that no more poisons are created.

It clears the stomach of poisons already there. It helps it to turn the food that remains, into healthful nourishment. It strengthens the stomach for the next meal.

Here is the whole philosophy and cure of indigestion in a few words. And what's more, it's all true. Try it.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is for sale by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 a bottle.

Gorman Ready to Quit.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 15.—United States Senator Gorman to-day issued an open letter to Edwin F. Abell, publisher of the Baltimore Sun, in which he offers to relinquish the leadership of the Democracy in Maryland, provided Mr. Abell will accept it and support the Democratic ticket in the coming state and legislatine campaign. He also intimates that he will forego his ambition to succeed himself in the United States senate as it can be shown that such a step is necessry to Democratic success.

The letter is a very long one, and reviews the course of the Sun in its opposition to Mr. Gorman because of his views on civil service, tariff and ballot reform measures. To all the charges made against him upon this score, Mr. Gorman pleads guilty, but he quotes the Sun as having admitted that such questions were largely matters of opinion, and asserts that every man is free to think as he pleases regarding them. He defends his course in regard to all these questions.

As Regards Diamonds.

NEW YORK, October 14.—Attorney General McKenna has sustained the customs officers in their contention that diamonds imported into this country from another country not contiguous to Canada, must pay discriminating duty of 10 per cent. The decision had its origin in the case of a prominent firm of diamond importers of this city. In August last they caused to be sent by registered mail from Amsterdam to Montreal, Canada, a package containing brilliants valued at 90,000.

The duty on cut diamonds under the Wilson tariff, then in force, was 25 per cent., but as the Canadian tariff prescribed a duty on only 10 per cent., the diamond importers hope to save 15 per cent., or $13,500.

As it is the owners of the diamonds have had to pay 10 per cent. duty in Canada and 10 per cent. discriminating duty.

PHYSICIANS BAFFLED.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, Instructor of Natural Science in Hartsville College, Cured of a Severe Illness by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People after Physicians Failed.

From the Republican, Columbus, Ind.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, the able instructor of natural science in the famous Hartsville, (Ind.,) College, is well and favorably known, not only as an educator, but also as a minister of the gospel, as for a number of years he was pastor of the United Brethren church at Charlotte, Mich., before coming to Hartsville.

PROF. R. S. BOWMAN.

Some time ago he had a severe illness which was cured almost miraculously. A reporter hearing of this, interviewed him regarding his experience. Prof. Bowman was in the midst of his work when the reporter called, but he cheerfully gave him a hearing.

"A year ago last fall," said the professor, "I broke down with nervous exhaustion, and was unable to properly attend to my duties. I tried different physicians but with no relief, and also used many different proprietary medicines, spending almost fifty dollars for these medicines alone. I then succumbed to a siege of the grip in the middle of winter, and was left in a much worse condition. My kidneys were fearfully disordered, and my digestion became very poor. I was indeed in a bad condition.

"A minister in conference learning of my condition advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard much about the wonderful curative powers of this medicine, but it was with reluctance that I was finally persuaded to try it, as it seemed that nothing could do me any good. However, I procured three boxes of pills and took them strictly according to directions. By the time the last dose was taken I was almost cured, and in better health than I had been for years. I continued using the pills awhile longer and was entirely cured. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Such was Professor Bowman's wonderful story which was further endorsed by the following affidavit.

HARTSVILLE, Ind., March 16, 1897.

I affirm that the above accords with the facts in my case.

"Saved From the Horrors of Nervous Prostration" by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

A COUGH does not always indicate consumption. Mr. W. H. Palmer, of Waterloo, Iowa, writes: "I was taken with a nervous stricture of the bronchial tubes, which developed into nervous prostration. I was so weak I could not sit up. I got no sleep for days except when under the influence of opiates. For four months I suffered agonies and prayed that I might die and be at rest. One physician said I had consumption, for I had a cough that gave me no rest. But a good old physician whose medicine had failed, advised me to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and I thank God that it has brightened my days, lengthened my life and saved me from the horrors of nervous prostration."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants.

HOW DID THE GUN GO OFF?

If Found Under the Bed as Stated Murder Was Done.

GOOD CHANCE TO INVESTIGATE

One Oddity Is That Both Are Dead and the Revolver Was Found in and Out of the Way Place for Such Things.

THE MURDER THEORY PLAUSIBLE

BALTIMORE, October 14.—Matthew Rogers, a grocer at 136 West Randall street, and Mrs, Ida Wright, his mistress, were found dead in Roger's house to-day. The woman's husband is living and is thought to be in West Virginia. Rogers, who was 36 years of age, has a wife, who is said to be living.

The murdered woman, after she left her husband, lived for a time with a railroad engineer in Baltimore, but for the past year has occupied the Rogers house and was looked upon as the grocer's wife.

The couple were last seen shortly before night, at which time Rogers seemed to be in good spirits. Their failure to appear at the usual hour this morning aroused the suspicions of the dead man's brothers, who lived in an adjoining house, and they broke open the door. On the floor of the bedroom occupied by the couple they the body of the man, while lying on the bed was that of the woman, with Lillian, her 8-year-old daughter, by her side sound asleep. A pistol with two chambers empty was found under the bed. All means of ingress to the house were tightly closed. These circumstances convlinced the police that the man had killed the woman and then shot himself dead but the dead man's relatives assert that two suspicious looking men were seen loitering about the house in the evening, which fact, taken in connection with the woman's past, incline them to believe that both were murdered, although they make no direct accusation against anyone.

One of Two Ways.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort, The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble, The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kinney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one doller. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet. both sent free by mail. Mention REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton N. Y. the proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

High Church Prelates Gather.

Buffalo, Oct. 13.—Delegates to the International Brotherhood of St. Andrew are arriving in large numbers. Seldom, if ever, has this city entertained a gathering of men of such high reputation. Canon Gore, of Westminister; the Lord Bishop, of Rochester Bishop H. C. Potter, of New York, and Bishop H. Y. Satterlee, of Washington, are among the most distinguished of those who will attend. From Canada comes N. Ferrar Davidson, of Toronto, and R. Vashan Rogers, of Kingston, President and vice President respectively of the Canadian brotherhood. The Lord Bishop of Huron, Bishop Leonard, of Utah; Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri; Dr. Sturgis, Prof J. McMahon, of Ithaca; Edmund Billings, of Boston, head of the Wells Institute for Working men; John M. Locke, of Chicago; Palmer Coke Hector Baxter, of Minneapolis; Bishop Doane, of Albany; Bishop Gailor, of Tennessee; Archbishop of the West Indies, Enos Nuttall, and Jacob A Riis, the New York sociologist, will also attend the convention, and some of them will be heard on the platform.

This convention marks the beginning of the Brotherhoods' international growth. At present ninteen-twentieths of its membership is in this country. Henceforth it is expected that the growth on English soil will be more rapid than here. The Brotherhood there is at present in its infancy, and the field there is also larger on account of the greater number of church parishes and communicants.

This morning a number of business meetings of national councils and of the international committee were held behind closed doors. Routine was considered. This afternoon devotional services known as "quiet hours" were held at St. Paul's Church presided over by Canon Gore, of Westminister.

THE HOLMAN LOCOMOTIVE ON TRIAL.

Did Some Fast Running Down About Cape May Yesterday—The Records.

CAPE MAY, N. J., October 14.—The Holman friction geared locomotive in a trial this afternoon made a mile in 44 3-5 seconds on the first trial and a mile in 42 seconds in a second spurt. The train consisted of two passenger coaches.

Previous to the trial speed this afternoon the train made a run of 55½ miles in 52½ minutes. This was the regular train on the West Jersey road. The train left Winstow Junction at 9.12 a. m. and reached Cape May at 10.04½. The train consisted of three coaches and the engine and tender. The fastest mile made was reeled off at 9.49 a. m., north of Tuckahoe, in 48.6 seconds, or at the rate of seventy-four miles an hour. Trainmaster Morrow states that between Cape May Court House and this city the train reeled off several miles at a thirty second gait, or 120 miles to the hour. The world's record for an engine and tender is said to be a mile in thirty-two seconds, done by a New York Central train.

The road bed over which the train speeded to-day is ballasted with gravel and cinder and the rails are seventy pounds. Mr. Morrow states that with ninety pound rails and a rock road bed the engine can develope and maintain a speed of 120 miles an hour.

Reciprocity and Its Provisions.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—The president has decided to appoint a special commissioner, with plenary powers, to carry into affect the reciprocity provisions of sections 3 and 4 of the tariff act approved July 24, 1897. It was found that the full force of the department of state is at present so over-crowded with pressing business that serious delay in carrying out the expressed wish of congress would inevitably follow. Moreover, the pressure for early and consistent action in the arrangement of measures of reciprocity has been very great from foreign countries as well as from our own citizens.

In view of these facts the president has designed the Hon. John A. Kasson, of Iowa, as special commissioner, with Mr. Chapman Coleman, of Kentucky, as secretary, and Mr. John Ball Osborne, of Scranton, Pa., as assistant secretary.

The commissioner is charged particularly to look after the agricultural interests both north and south, not forgetting the large and constantly increasing manufacturing interests east of the Alleghenies.

Bloody Work of Brigands.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Mail, describing the proceedings at the trial of 200 brigands and receivers of stolen property, now in progress at Tschaischak, in Servia, which have already revealed systematic plundering and murdering of members of the Liberal party at the instigation of Radicals, prominent among whom is Deputy Tajsitch, a well known member of the assembly, says:

"The leader of the brigands, a man named Brkitsch, testified that he killed a school master named Backovitch, who was also a political writer, at the instigation of Deputy Tajsitch. He deposed that the latter promised to assist him to escape into Montenegro, where according to the Deputy, Prince Nicholas, who also desired the death of Backovitch, was to reward him handsomely.

"Deputy Tajsitch then sounded Brkitsch as to the possibility of assassinating King Alexander, of Servia. When this stage of the proceedings was reached the brigand leader suddenly stopped his disclosures and declared that his previous testimony was false, but the retraction is said to be due to a bribe from Deputy Tajsitch."

ALL THE FIRE EXPLOSIVES

Attended the Disappearance of Evangelina Cisneros.

A REGULAR TANK PLAY DRAMA

All the Features of an Up-to-Date Spectacular Production Were Introduced in the Sensational Escape.

VIVID DESCRIPTION OF THE FEAT

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Miss Evangelina Cisnero's escape and safe arrival on the Seneca was one of the most daring feats ever attempted and successfully carried out. While she was still in prison her friends secured a passport for one Juan Sola, and a state room on the Seneca was held in the same name. This was three days before the boat sailed. On the Saturday when the boat was to leave Havana detectives watched her gangways with extra caution. All day long they remained at their posts, examining the passports. Their vigilance would probably have prevented the departure of Miss Cisneros from Cuba had it not been for a little refreshment which was served to them by friends of Miss Cisneros, who were aboard the Seneca. The refreshment included wine. The chief of police of Havana came aboard while the refreshment part of the plot was in progress, and it is alleged that he, too, fell a victim of the wiles of the Cisneros faction.

A few minutes before the Seneca was ready to pull out from her deck a slim young fellow came running across the wharf. He had no baggage and was fashionably dressed. The detective stopped him. "My name is Juan Sola," he said and he showed his passport. Everything was satisfactory and he was allowed to go aboard. It is said that if it had not been for the wine, the strange treble and curious figure of Senor Sola might have excited the suspicions of the Spanish detectives, but the scheme worked successfully.

Miss Cisnero's friends, when they saw that everything was satisfactory disembarked and watched the ship pull slowly out under the frowning Spanish guns, carrying the fugitive to safety under the stars and stripes.

Miss Cisneros went at once to her cabin. The next day when Morro Castle was left far behind, she appeared on deck, transformed into Senorita Juana Sola, alias, Cosio Y. Cisneros, and dressed in a becoming red gown, furnished by the stewardess of the Seneca.

Captain Stevens, commander of the Seneca, was angry when he discussed the Cisneros incident with the reporters. He said:

"Since the commencement of the insurrection it has been the custom of the Spanish authorities to post a couple of detectives at the head of the gangway of ships lying at Havana. Just before the Seneca sailed the chief of police, his deputy and his secretary came aboard. They made no search and asked no questions, although upon three former occasions they had searched the Seneca from stem to stern and keel to promenade deck looking for suspects."

Captain Stevens said that to the best of his knowledge the only persons who went aboard at Havana were the Lastie family, the DelReal family, eight Chinamen, and a man whose name appeared upon the advance passenger list as Juan Sola and who must have had a passport. When it was discovered that Juan Sola was a girl, the Juan was changed to Juana, and Miss Cisneros came in under that name.

After Information.

HARRISBURG, October 13.—Governor Hastings has received a letter from Secretary Sherman stating that the Austrian minister at Washington has filed a communication with the department of state claiming that there was a violation of the rights of Austrian subjects in the firing on the mob at Lattimer. Secretary Sherman requests the facts and status of affairs in relation to these cases. Governor Hastings has referred the communication to Sheriff Martin and General Gobin with the request that they enlighten Secretary Sherman as early as possible.

Important Railroad Extension.

The following news dispatch appeared in this morning's Pittsburg Commercial Gazette dated from Bellefonte:

Surveyors are making the final surveys for the extension of the Central railroad of Pennsylvania from Lamar, Clinton county, to Watsontown. The route will be east through Sugar and White Deer valleys. It is said work on the grading of the road will begin soon. The construction of this extension will also mean the building at once of the Bellefonte and Clearfield branch, from here to Clearfield, where connections will be made with the Clearfield and Mahoning, and subsequently with other independent lines through to Pittsburg, giving a full competing route from the western part of the state to the East and New York.

The line, as now contemplated, will be some eight miles shorter than the Pennsylvania and of comparatively easy grades.

Sold by all grocers.

Centre County's Crops.

Corn has matured exceptionally well. The yield will be good although not as large as last year's crop. Potatoes are of good quality, entirely free from rot, but the yield is comparatively light, Considerable cider was made in this county and the crop of winter apples will be about two-thirds that of last fall. The fruit is exceptionally good. The clover seed crop will be fully four times greater than ever harvested. Some farmers have from 75 to 150 bu. The average crop is 40 to 50 bu. The fall work has created the usual demand for extra farm labor, and quite a number have been given employment. The number of fattened hogs to be slaughtered this year will be greater than last year. Beef cattle are also plentiful and bringing a fair price. The chicken and turkey crop is unusually good. Some farmers in Penns-valley are already shipping fowls to eastern markets and realizing big prices. The usual output from this valley to eastern markets aggregate from 75 to 100 tons of poultry, and this year the estimate is placed at not less than 125 tons. Spring Mills is the central place of shippment. Many farmers have disposed of their year's crop of wheat, doing so as soon as it could be gotten to market, realizing 85 and 90c per bu. Other crops, such as rye, oats and barley, are being held for higher prices. It is estimated that the county's surplus crop of hay will amount to from 40,000 to 50,000 tons. The most conservative estimates are to the effect that Centre county farmers, by reason of the large crops, the rise in price of wheat, etc, are fully $750,000 better off this fall than one year ago, and some place the figure as high as a million.

Rod and Gun Club.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Nittany Valley Rod and Gun Club was held at the Fallon House, Lock Haven last Tuesday night at which several members of the club who are not on the committee were present.

Those present were Wilson Kistler, T. C. Hipple, Esq., and Barton Pardee, of Lock Haven, Frank Warfield, A. Brockerhoff, Jack Dale and Harry Keller, of this city, and Seth Foresman, of Williamsport. The annual meeting of the club will be held at the club house at Hecla park on or about November 2d, and the meeting Tuesday night was for the purpose of considering the uestion of furniture and fixtures for the new club house. Another question discussed was the size of the trout with which the ponds will be stocked. It was decided to stock them with trout of from three to six inches in length.

The Nittany Rod and Gun Club has seventy-eight members and the annual meeting next month will be the first held in the new club house.

Outcome of a Lovers' Quarrel.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—To-night nineteen-year-old Florence Gleason fired a bullet into the brain of her lover, John Peters, and then turned the weapon against her temple. The bullet entered her brain, killing her instantly. Peters was removed to the Alexian Brothers' Hospital, where the doctors say he will die.

The shooting was the outcome of a lovers' quarrel some months ago, it is said, since which Miss Gleason has been jealous of Peters' attention to other young women.

HAD A LIVELY TIME.

A Hotel on Fire and the Many Guests Panic-Stricken.

ALL THIS OCCURED IN CHICAGO

Everybody Was Rescued and While Wearing Apparel Was Destroyed the Inmates of the House May Be Counted Lucky.

LOSS TO THE HOUSE NOT GREAT

CHICAGO, October 13.—At 1.20 o'clock this morning a fire broken out in the Sherman house, one of the largest hotels in the city, and although all of the guests and the servants escaped without loss of life, there was for a time the liveliest kind of a panic among them.

The fire originated in the kitchen from a gasstove and spread with great rapidity. The hotel is in the course of being remodeled, the entire first story being supported by jack screws. This open space gave the fire quite a chance and the strong breeze that was blowing from the west fanned the fire fiercely. In a few minutes the entire building was filled with a dense cloud of smoke and the attaches of the hotel office were hurrying through the hall calling on the guests to prepare to leave. Many of the guests needed no warning and were in the halls half-dressed and more than ready to make their escape to the open air as soon as they saw a chance to do so. There was a wild rush for the street and in a few minutes all of them, in all conditions of undress, were in the street or safely on their way to it. The servants were located in the seventh story of the hotel, and for a time it looked as though some of them would not be able to reach the street in safety owing to the dense clouds of smoke that filled the building. The firemen were compelled to carry several of the servants girls down two flights of stairs until they could secure a passageway to the street that was comparatively free from smoke, and from this point all of them managed to make their escape from the building without accident.

Within ten minutes after the discovery of the fire, all of the guests and servants had been taken from the building and the firemen were free to devote themselves to the fire alone. The hotel is situated on the northeast corner of Randolph and Clark streets, and occupies half a square. It is close to Hooley's theatre on the east, and the Olympic theatre and the Ashland block, one of the largest buildings in the city, are directly across Clark street. The situation of the hotel made it important that the fire should be subdued with the least possible delay, and the firemen made desperate efforts to hold it within the rear portion of the Sherman house, where it had originated. They were entirely successful in this, and although for a time the fire looked to be dangerous, they soon had it under control. The damage to the building will not be over $5,000.

An Unsolved Mystery.

CAMDEN, N. J., October 13.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Emma Zane ahd her daughter, Mrs. Sara M. Shaw, at their home, early Wednesday morning, remains unsolved. The police authorities, together with two Philadelphia detectives, were busily engaged all day and to-night in following up various clews, and they express the belief that the murderer or murderers will soon be apprehended. Two men arrested in the adjoining township of Stockton, this afternoon, on suspicion of complicity in the murder. This suspicion was based on the fact that they handed a revolver to a saloon keeper with the request that he should keep it for them a few days. They were intoxicated when arrested. They gave their names as Dooney and Geesey, and on alibi for their movements on the night of the murder was established soon after they had been placed in custody. A clerk at one of the local hotels says the men, who are employed at the Pennsylvania railroad shops in West Philadelphia, have been "on a drunk" since Saturday and that on Monday night they went to bed intoxicated and remained in their room all night. They will be released from custody in the morning.

The police do not think the murder was committed by professional burglars, and are inclined to the theory that the women were killed by a relative or some one well known to the family, who was familiar with the house and entered it with the expectation of getting money. What particular relative is receiving the greatest amount of suspicion has not been divulged.

The authorities have modified to a great extent the suspicious they at first entertained against Eli Shaw, the son and grandson of the murdered woman, and who was in the house at the time the crime was committed, and whose cries for help aroused the neighbors and brought the police to the scene.

KILLED BY HIS HORSES.

How a Huckster Met Death a Few Nights Ago.

A special to the Gazette and Bulletin gives the following particulars of the fatal accident that befell a resident of Lycoming county.

John Nestor, farmer and huckster, of West Union, was found dead under his overturned meat wagon about 1½ miles from his town on the road leading to his home. His horses, an ugly pair, had kicked themselves free and gone home. The dead man's brother was the first to make the ghastly find on Saturday morning, after the body had lain all night under the heavy wreck. A coroner's jury was summoned, consisting of Squire DeCoursey, Constable Washburn, Dr. Bailey and Burly Johnson, but it was found not necessary to hold an inquest as, after viewing the mutilated body and wrecked wagon, the evidence was conclusive that death resulted through the agency of his vicious horses, a span that his friends had often advised him to get rid of. The deep wound over his heart, where the brake iron had penetrated, was alone sufficient cause for immediate death. One of the wheels had to be taken off the wagon before the body could be extricated

Mr. Nestor was a married man, about 35 years of age, and the father of five children, all of whom are under 12 years of age. He was a man well known throughout this section of the country, and all who knew him were his friends.

The funeral of Mr. Nestor took place Wednesday at the West Union church. Interment at Cascade.

—There are many things that Centre county people can feel proud of, but it is not of their public buildings. The jail is in a dilapidated condition and unsafe to keep prisoners in, for with a case knife a prisoner can get through the walls to liberty in an hour time. The Court house is in a leaky condition, the frescoing on the inside is falling off and presents a ragged appearence, while the fronts porch appears to be sinking four different ways, which will, in the near future, cause the unsightly pillars to fall to the ground. These buildings being in such a state in a county that has no debt, causes people to make unsavory remarks.—Bellefonte Correspondent of Grit.

Y. M. C. A. Anniversary.

Eloquent Address by Rev. Lawrence M. Colfelt—Encouraging Reports of the Years Work.

The Young Men's Christian Association held their anniversary exercises in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The large edifice was crowded to the doors, many standing, all anxious to hear of the progress of the work in Bellefonte, and also drawn by the fact that this would probably be the last chance for some time to come of hearing the learned divine. Rev. Lawrence M. Colfelt, who will soon leave for Boston, Mass,, where he has accepted a call to preach.

The exercises Sunday night were presided over by J. W. Gephart, the president of the association. The services were opened by the singing of several sacred songs by a choir composed of twelve male voices with Prof. W. T. Meyer ably presiding at the organ. Rev. C. L. Goodling of the Evangelical church, then made an eloquent prayer in which he asked the divine blessing on the work of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Emanuel Markle then read an interesting report from the young men of the association showing the good work accomplished. Over 7,000 people have attended their Sunday afternoon meetings. Meetings were also held by the young men at Lemont, Boalsburg, Shiloh church, Houserville, Jacksonville, Howard and other places over the country, which it is hoped were the means of doing much good.

The report of the secretary for the past year was read by M. B. Derr, and was quite interesting, showing what is being done for the young men of our town.

Harris Heylman, treasurer of the association, read a report as to the financial condition of the Y. M. C. A. It showed that they were not as strong financially as they should be; and he called on the citizens to be more liberal in their contributions, at the same time thanking them for their past support.

President Gephart also gave an interesting talk saying among other things that he felt very much encouraged at the prospects for the ensuing year. He thought they were never brighter.

Mr. Gephart then introduced the orator of the evening, Rev. L. M. Colfelt, who took for his text, Matthew, the 4th chapter and 17th verse, "What shall I do to be saved." The sermon was listened to with rapt attention by all present, and every heart was touched by his burning words of eloquence, The main point in his sermon was that there is no salvation without repentence. At the close of his talk a collection was taken up which is said to have netted a nice sum for the Y. M. C. A.

FIRE AT JACKSONVILLE.

Large Barn on the Joseph Long Farm Goes Up in Smoke.

Tuesday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock fire broke out in the large bank barn on the farm occupied by George Ertly, about one mile from Jacksonville. Every effort was made to subdue the fierce flames but to no avail, as they spread with alarming rapidity. Before many minutes the large structure was razed to the ground. All Mr. Ertly's crop of hay, his farming implements, etc., were consumed, and two valuable horses perished in the flames. Fortunately for Mr. Ertly his grain was threshed out this year and it was therefore safe. Mr. Ertly was a poor man and carried no insurance. Mr. Joseph Long, the owner of the farm, is wealthy, and resides at Flemington, and it is said had no insurance on the barn.

The origin of the fire is unknown at present but is believed to have been accidental. Mr. Ertly had been to the barn about an hour before the fire broke out to tend his stock and carried a lighted lantern in his hand, but it is not known for certain whether the fire caught from this or not.

Mr. Ertly certainly has our sympathy as the loss will be a heavy one to him. The total loss is placed at about $4,000.

A Little Girls Death.

On Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock the spirit of Margaret Ellen Johnson took its flight to the realms of glory. She took sick, Monday at noon and on Tuesday evening she was dead. She was a very pretty little girl with bright blue eyes and light curly hair and was only three years old.

She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson. They have only lived in Bellefonte a few weeks and are perfect strangers to the community, No time nor place has been set for the funeral.

Many Families Made Glad.

We received the pleasant information Monday afternoon that the Valentie Iron Furnace will be in operation in less than two weeks. The workmen and the board of directors held a meeting Monday and the workmen decided to wait on there back pay until after the first of January, with this offer the directors promised them work within two weeks.

A Lucky Man.

Bellefonte has in it some very fine hunters, and among them is our good friend Mr. J. D. Hall Passenger conductor on the C. R. R. of Pa. On Friday he and Elmer Snavely of Huston started for the woods and didn't do a thing but kill three pheasants and twenty-three squirrels. Let us congratulate you gentlemen.

George W. Jackson Taken to the Hospital.

George W. Jackson, the banker, was taken to the hospital Tuesday evening. He had been suffering for the past two weeks with gravel and kidney trouble. All that medical skill could do for him was done but he seemed to be growing worse, and it was finally decided that an operation was necessary to save his life. A specialist, Dr. White of Philadelphia, was telegraphed for and he arrived here Monday evening; but he at once decided that Mr. Jackson must be taken to the hospital before the operation could be performed, and that it should be done at once.

Accordingly a special train was secured which left here Tuesday night by way of Montandon, enroute for Philadelphia. The train consisted of Superintendent Wallace's private car and a day coach. Mr. Jackson was placed on a cot and tenderly conveyed from his residence on Linn street to the train and carefully placed on board. He reached Philadelphia safely early Wed. morning and was at once taken to the University of Pennsylvania hospital.

On the special train with Mr. Jackson were Mrs. Jackson and daughter, Mrs. Brew, his son Harry Jackson; Dr. J. L. Seibert; Col. J. L. Spangler and several attendants.

Dr. Seibert telegraphed that the patient stood the journey much better than expected, and that a consultation of doctors would be held Wednesday at noon, but that the operation would not be performed for a day or two.

ANOTHER ONE PASSED AWAY.

Death Claims a Bright Young Lady.

Early Wed. morning, at the quite hour of three o'clock the peaceful angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Ginter on West Logan street, and took from them, their youngest daughter Mable M. She was a bright and intelligent young lady who had many friends, who will only be too sorry to hear of her death.

She was a friend of all who knew her, she also had a disposition which was reserved, but when you once knew her, it was of a very sweet nature. Miss Ginter has not been a long sufferer it has only been about four weeks, since she has been confined to her home, and about two, since she took her bed. During her sickness she suffered extreme pain, up until Tuesday noon, when the Master took them all away. Her pastor was with her most of the day, and she told him she was waiting and watching for her Maker to come and take her home with Him. She hadn't long to wait as He did come early this morning.

Mable M. Ginter had reached the age of 18 years old. She was born in Bellefonte, Sept. 6th 1879, making her age 18 years 1 month, 14 days. The cause of her death was due to heart failure. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church of which the departed one was a devout member Rev. Dr. Stephens will officiate.

Laid to Rest.

All that remained of our good friend John Emery was laid in the tomb on Sunday afternoon. His mother and father, three sisters and three brothers were here and paid their last tribute to their son and brother. It does really seem sad that this young man had to be taken away just in the prime of manhood. Rev. Woodson preached a very impressive sermon, and spoke of how only a few days ago John was wishing that he was a christian and Mr. Woodson, like a loving pastor, pointed out the way to him. Of course, as Rev. Woodson said, John had his faults, the same as all of us have, but he was convinced that he had made his peace with God before he died.

The funeral was one of the largest attended held in Bellefonte for a long time and many sorrowing friends followed him to the grave. We really must say a word in regard to the singing, it was certainly very sweet, their voices blending in an excellent manner.

The pallbearers were Messrs A. C. Piper, E Poerton, W. Lee, J. Thompson, R. Harris, W. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory and family wishes us through our paper to thank the many friends of their son John who were so very kind to them in their sad bereavement.

Getting Along Nicely.

Mrs. Samuel Gilham, who was shot by her husband on Saturday night in a fit of jealousy, is getting along very nicely under the careful treatment she is receiving at the Cottage hospital. She slept good Monday night, and while the wound still bleeds a little, yet it is believed she will recover. Of course her face will be disfigured, which will be in accordance with the expressed purpose of her husband in doing the shooting.—Philipsburg Journal.

Philipsburg 10, Academy 0.

The Academy eleven made a splendid showing at Philipsburg on Saturday against the strong eleven of that place. To keep a team from scoring but twice, once in each half, with such old and experienced players on it as Mull, Freeman and Jackson, shows a very hotly contested game, and the final score of 10–0 in favor of Philipsburg, is very creditable to the Academy boys. The home team speak very highly of the courtesies extended to them at the Potter house and by the management, players and friends of the Philipsburg eleven. Of course they felt very much disappointed to see lined up against them the players of the first team already mentioned, instead of players of the student class, whom they had been challenged to meet. With the exception of two minutes of play the ball was as much in the territory of one side as of the other. In the first half Curtin while rushing the ball in a mass play to the Philipsburg 20 yard line, had it knocked out of his hand when it was picked up by an opponent and carried clear back for a touch down in the Academy territory. It was an unfortunate fluke, indeed.

In the second half Mull made a magnificent run around the end and by the aid of fine interference scored the second and last touch down from which a goal was kicked. The line up follows:

PHILIPSBURG,	Pos.	ACADEMY.
Copeland	R. E.	Otto
Russ	R. T.	Musser

STATE COLLEGE VANQUISHED.

The Princeton Tigers Did the Job by 34 to 0.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 13.—For 10 minutes of the first half of the game between the Tigers and Pennsylvania State college on the 'varsity gridiron this afternoon every indication pointed to a repetition of last year's game with Lafayette, when Princeton could not score. The men from Central Pennsylvania were giants when compared with the 'varsity in height and weight and played splendidly for 10 minutes, twice nearly making touchdowns on fumbles by the Tigers and downing the 'varsity backs time and again with no gain. But the Tiger's superior training told, and after the first 10 minutes Princeton was able to score. The 'varsity team work was poor and fumbling was frequent. Princeton's touchdowns were secured by Wheeler, Bannard, Suter and Ayres, and the game ended with a score of 34 to 0.

The line up:

Princeton.	Positions.	State College.
Cochran. H'y'w'd.	right end	McChesney
Hillebrand	right tackle	Cartwright
Edwards	right guard	Elsler
Booth	center	Murray
Holt	left tackle	Shaw
Baird,
Bernard Reiter	left half back	Crowe
Kelly, Suter	right half-back	Crowe
